Hughes told officers he was getting a drink of water from a spring when Odus Jones threatened him with a knife. He said he went home, got his shotgun, returned and shot Odus, and another of the Negroes in an adjoining field, then went to their home and shot the other four. Hughes was placed in jail.

BRUNK DISCOVERS
CLERK OF HOUSE
GOT $374 MORE

Kansas City Bank Records Yield Another Draft Indorsed by J. L. Kennedy, Making Total $794.

PART OF STATE
PAYROLL MONEY

Additional Amounts Traced to Accounts in Names of Wives of Max Asotsky and Gil P. Bourk.

By CURTIS A. BETTS, Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 30.—State Treasurer Brunk today found in the records of the Columbia National Bank of Kansas City evidence of an additional $374 of state legislative payroll money which found its way to Joseph L. Kennedy, Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives. A previous examination of the records showed receipt by Kennedy of $420, making a total of $794 so far traced to him.

The additional amount was a part of $8281 of clerks' pay warrants cashed at the bank by members of the House, of which it has been definitely established that $794 was cashed by two Kansas City members, Gil P. Bourk and Max Asotsky.

Brunk also established from the records of the Home Trust Co. of Kansas City that the clerk, "S. Kazan," in whose name Asotsky cashed $451.50 of warrants, in reality was Mrs. Asotsky, whose name was married was Sarah Kazan.

Bourk's wife's Bank Account. The State Treasurer examined in detail the savings account of Julie M. Bourk, account No. 6636, in the Columbia National, to which was credited the clerks' warrants cashed by Gil P. Bourk. The account being in the name of his wife. This examination disclosed that between Feb. 21 and May 2, Bourk deposited to this account a total of $2425 of legislative warrants. The amount he actually cashed, however, was in excess of $400, including the $794 he sent to Kennedy, and other warrants on which he obtained cash.

He presented them at the bank during that period the only deposit to the account other than $300. The deposit slip for March 21 showed that on that date he cashed 17 pay warrants issued to supposed clerks, the total being $107. Two deductions were shown on the slip, one for $374 marked "C" and one for $12, marked "cash," making the net amount actually deposited $520.

Kennedy's Name on $374 Check. Mr. Brunk's request, bank officers returned the cashier's check for $374. It was made payable to Gil P. Bourk, who had indorsed it. It also bore as the second and last endorsement the name of J. L. Kennedy, and showed on the paying bank's stamp that it was cashed at the Farmers' Savings Bank of Marshall, Mo., Kennedy's home.

The two other certified checks sent by Bourk to Kennedy and cashed by him, which were found in an earlier examination of the bank's records, were for $210 each. They were made payable direct to Kennedy, bore his indorsement and were cashed at the Marshall bank.

The identification of clerk, "S. Kazan," as Mrs. Asotsky, came about through the fact that one draft payable to "S. Kazan" was cashed at the Home Trust Co. All the others were cashed at the Columbia National by Asotsky. The one cashed at the Home Trust Co. contained in ink a notation number "6604" just as many of those cashed by Bourk at the Columbia National bore the number "6636" in ink. The 6636 proved to be the savings account of Julie M. Bourk.

The one clerk's pay check cashed at the Home Trust Co. was in the name of State Treasurer's draft number 894,126, payable to S. Kazan and was for $108.50. This was the amount paid for one clerk for each member of the House during the period the House was in session awaiting the beginning of the impeachment trial of Treasurer Brunk. All the previous Kazan warrants issued were cashed by Asotsky. The draft was dated June 1 and was cashed at the bank June 26. Of the $108.50, $25 was placed in Mrs. Asotsky's savings account, $25 in a special Christmas savings account in her name, and $58.50 was taken in cash.

Mrs. Asotsky was not a member of the working clerical force of the House during the Legislature. Brunk said today that he expected to continue his investigation of the House payroll.

more than $200,000 of the $220,000 House payroll was improperly paid out," Brunk said, "and as I proceed I am convinced that my estimate was not too high. The checks issued to three names on the payroll, and undoubtedly many of the irregularities have been covered so that we shall not find them, but we are finding enough to indicate that the irregularities were extensive."

"We have found that $2381 of clerks' warrants were cashed by two Representatives at one bank. The checks issued to three names on the payroll. We have found Speaker Nelson and Representative Snyder receiving and cashing clerks' pay checks. And we have found the name of Representative Blair's wife that is, her maiden name, on the payroll and Blair receiving and cashing the checks. We have found innumerable instances of Representatives receiving the warrants supposed to go to clerks and cashing them."

"However, it will not be necessary to trace every transaction to substantiate my charge of $240,000 of irregularities. In fact, that is a low figure. To substantiate it, it is only necessary to know, as we do know, that there were 620 names on the payroll, that not to exceed 100 clerks were employed at legislative work and that the total payroll was $329,000."

Bank Refuses Brunk Permission to Inspect Kennedy's Account. Special to the Post-Dispatch. MARSHALL, Mo., Sept. 30.—Officers of the Farmers' Savings Bank of Marshall today refused a request by State Treasurer Brunk for permission to examine the bank account of Joseph L. Kennedy, chief clerk of the House of Representatives in the 1931 Legislature.

Brunk told the bank officers that three drafts had been sent to Kennedy by Gil P. Bourk, Kansas City member of the Legislature, from money derived from warrants issued to legislative clerks, and that he desired to trace these drafts through the Marshall bank, where they were cashed, and to make a complete examination of Kennedy's account.

The bank's reply was that it would not permit the inspection except on court order.

HOOPER STILL IS OPPOSED TO COTTON EXPORT DEBENTURE Secretary Hyde So Informs Association of European Cotton Exchanges.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Secretary of Agriculture Hyde informed the European Cotton Association today that the Hoover administration was opposed to an export debenture on cotton.

Replying to cablegrams from the association, which is composed of various European cotton exchanges, Hyde said it was "inconceivable that Congress would take any action the benefit of which would accrue to the buyers, rather than the producers of American cotton."

The association had informed the department that the proposal for enactment of a debenture would prevent buyers of manufactured cotton goods abroad from placing orders.

By the Associated Press. DENVER, Colo., Sept. 30.—The adoption of a new matrimonial canon was cited as a major achievement of the fiftieth triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal church as delegates prepared to close their business today and adjourn.

The canon, representing the first important changes in the rules of the church on marriage and divorce since 1803, was indorsed by the convention yesterday. It resulted from a compromise between the house of Bishops and the house of clerical and lay deputies.

Persons who have been divorced and remarried in contravention to the law of the church are mentioned in the new canon. With the approval of ecclesiastical courts, operating through the Bishops, they may retain their communicant status and be admitted to baptism, confirmation and holy communion.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH
ALTERS MARRIAGE
AND DIVORCE CODE

Provides That Persons Who Wed in Violation of Canon May Retain Communicant Status.

By the Associated Press. DENVER, Colo., Sept. 30.—The adoption of a new matrimonial canon was cited as a major achievement of the fiftieth triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal church as delegates prepared to close their business today and adjourn.

The canon, representing the first important changes in the rules of the church on marriage and divorce since 1803, was indorsed by the convention yesterday. It resulted from a compromise between the house of Bishops and the house of clerical and lay deputies.

Persons who have been divorced and remarried in contravention to the law of the church are mentioned in the new canon. With the approval of ecclesiastical courts, operating through the Bishops, they may retain their communicant status and be admitted to baptism, confirmation and holy communion.

The canon provides for pre-marriage instruction by ministers, who may not perform the wedding service unless they have been notified of the marriage three days in advance.

Power of Church Courts. The ecclesiastical courts and the Bishops are given power to declare null marriages that have been dissolved or annulled by civil courts. Annulment by the ecclesiastical courts, however, must be based on one or more of nine impediments to matrimony, existing prior to marriage.

The canon also provides that the Bishops and ecclesiastical courts shall recognize adultery as a cause for dissolution or annulment after marriage. The innocent party to a divorce granted on grounds of adultery may be married by a minister of the church, with approval of the Bishop.

On prohibition and unemployment, the convention declined to take decisive action. Both the house of deputies and the house of Bishops adopted a report asserting that there was a widespread difference of opinion on the wisdom of retaining the eighteenth amendment.

The convention, however, viewed the question as "highly controversial and closely related to partisan politics," and declared it was unwise "to ask the church to pass on questions thus involved."

No Unemployment Program. Despite statements by several convention leaders that plans for constructive action by the church on industrial dislocation would be a great moral and spiritual force in the present situation, the convention drafted no unemployment program.

The deputies, however, adopted a resolution offered by George W. Wickersham, lay delegate from New York, advising ministers and members to aid local relief committees.

The convention went on record as favoring disarmament and recommending that the United States join the World Court.

Members recommended for a six-year term on the national council of the church by the deputies include Dr. Karl M. Bloch of St. Louis and William R. Castle of Washington.

Atlantic City, N. J., was chosen today for the next triennial convention of the church in 1934. The house of deputies today voted for Atlantic City after having previously selected Minneapolis. The house of bishops chose Atlantic City last week.

R. A. Jackson, Whose Car Ran Down J. T. Shaw, 71, Later Removed License Plates.

Roy Andrew Jackson, who fled after his automobile killed John T. Shaw, 71-year-old elder, Aug. 22 last, was indicted yesterday charged with leaving the scene of an accident.

Jackson, who drove his car two blocks and abandoned it after taking off the license plates, was traced through a leather key-case found beneath the seat. When arrested at his home, 1121 Dillon street, he signed a statement saying he became excited after striking Shaw and fled for that reason.

The penalty for leaving the scene of an accident is from two to five years in the penitentiary. Ron J. Tucker, 18, a clerk, 3088 Parker avenue, was named in an indictment for manslaughter voted by the grand jury yesterday after it had investigated the death of Miss Martha Gimpel, a stenographer, 3726A Wyoming street, who was struck by Tucker's automobile.

Miss Gimpel died Aug. 18 of injuries suffered a week earlier. Tucker told police that he was making a wide turn out of Junata street into Gustine avenue when the accident occurred.

CONTEMPT CITATION DISMISSED

Realty Firm Pays Back Rentals on Thomasson Property.

A citation for contempt of court against the Frank Real Estate & Investment Co. was dismissed by Circuit Judge McElhinney at Clayton yesterday on acknowledgment by the receiver of the property of Hugh W. Thomasson of receipt of $10,500 back rentals from the real estate company.

The court ordered the receiver, William H. Pfeiffer, to pay $1500 to the Frank company, less $1000 of property at Broadway and Washington avenue, for costs of defending the receivership suit. The company was dropped as a defendant. A motion was filed by Thomasson, clerkly capitalist, and his youthful wife, Mrs. Grace Carolyn Thomasson, asking that the receiver be ordered to pay them $6000 from income on the property.

OTTO KAHN, SUED BY SINGER, TAKES STAND

Lydia Lindgren Seeks $500,000, Alleging Financial Broke Agreement.

Lydia Lindgren, blonde prima donna, $500,000 for which she has filed suit.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Otto H. Kahn, financier, took the witness stand today to tell why he does not believe he should pay Mme. Lydia Lindgren, blonde prima donna, $500,000 for which she has filed suit.

He was preceded on the stand by the blonde opera singer herself, who spent several hours telling the jury just how she arrived at the figure of $500,000 as the amount she maintains Kahn owes her.

Mme. Lindgren testified $130,000 of the amount she is seeking represents money needed to replenish a depleted $150,000 trust fund she said Kahn had established for her in 1926 "out of the goodness of his heart."

An additional $20,000, she continued, was an income of $3000 a year for 13 years which she said was stipulated in Kahn's will and which she said she thought she was entitled to have now in a lump sum.

The rest of the $500,000, Mme. Lindgren declared, was due her for damages to her career in connection with the settlement out of court of a slander suit she brought against Mme. Julia Clausen, Metropolitan opera star. The singer has contended she settled the suit out of court on the basis of an agreement with Kahn that he would pay her the $130,000.

"At the request of Kahn," she counsel said in opening the case in a Long Island City court, "Mme. Lindgren withdrew her action against Mme. Clausen. Kahn promised to pay her $160,000 in cash and secure a career for herself and her husband."

"He paid her $13,000 and then stopped. She has not seen him since he persuaded her to withdraw the slander suit. This suit is to recover the $160,000 and for damages sustained by Mme. Lindgren by reason of his failure to keep his verbal agreement."

The plaintiff sang with the Chicago Opera Company and in concerts but never in prominent roles at the Metropolitan. She was an associate in that organization of Mme. Clausen and her complaint against her former friend in the slander action recited that Mme.

LYDIA LINDGREN.

Clausen had circulated stories involving her with Kahn.

Mme. Lindgren's counsel said she met Kahn in 1914 soon after her arrival in America and that he managed an audition for her.

George W. Whiteside, counsel for Kahn, admitted Kahn paid Mme. Lindgren the $15,000 but said the payment was actuated by his kindly feeling toward struggling musical artists and to some extent by publicity given to the slander suit started by Mme. Lindgren against Mme. Clausen.

"The defendant," Whiteside said, "did not promise to pay any more, but thinks he might have suggested that he would send Mme. Lindgren a Christmas present."

Brilliant group of composers, critics and music authorities cast 23 out of 26 ballots for General Electric

AMONG the group that gathered for this experiment were some of the most brilliant names in the international world of music.

Here is what happened:

Four leading makes of radios, one of them a General Electric, were hidden by screens. Not one of the listeners knew what radios were competing. To the entire audience, each set was only a number.

For a solid hour, this audience compared the tone quality of the hidden radios. Only after every possible comparative listening test had been made did each listener vote for his choice.

When the ballots were counted, 23 out of 26 had voted for General Electric! All but three of this musically-sophisticated audience had unknowingly picked G-E for its marked superiority of tone.

Believe your own ears! Claims are not enough. Make this comparison yourself. Visit several radio stores. Listen carefully to different makes of sets. Let your ears get a vivid impression of their tone quality.

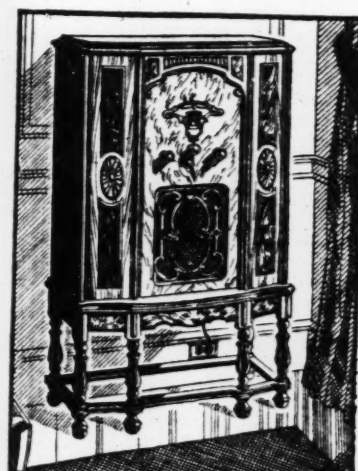

Then go to a G-E Radio dealer, hear the General Electric—and be astonished at the difference! Discover how honestly it re-creates the original studio performance, with the full life, color and brilliance of the actual artists.

Note how stations come in at exact points on the dial—and how the slightest additional turn clips them off again. Note the great number of stations—far and near—these remarkable sets bring you.

Ask the G-E Radio dealer about the General Electric Certified Inspection Plan. See the many G-E models. You will agree that they are worthy of the monogram of the greatest electrical organization in the world!

And don't forget—all prices are complete with tubes. The Midget sells at $37.50, End Table Phonograph $64.50, the Junior at $72.50, Junior with Clock $84.50, Junior Console—$89.50, Battery-operated Console (less batteries)—$99.50, Popular Console—$124.75, Georgian Grandfather Clock—$179.00, DeLuxe Lowboy—$164.50, Modern Longfellow Grandfather Clock—$285.00, DeLuxe Automatic Radio-Phonograph Combination—$345.00, and special installations up to $5,000.

and SIGMUND SPAETH Count the Ballots

This test was in no sense a "testimonial," nor did any musical authority present "endorse" any particular make of radio. This was an experiment, fairly-conducted and above-board in every detail. Not one cent was paid any listener for his attendance or vote!

All competing sets were the large console models of each manufacturer. All were current stock models. All had as many, or more tubes, than the General Electric. All were pronounced in good working order before the test began by an outside, non-partisan service man. The final scores of the four radios were as follows:

CAULFIELD FAVORS STATE REGULATION OF THE UTILITIES

Says One Who Opposes It
Is Advance Guard of Public Ownership or Unfriendly Legislation.

DECLARES AGAINST FEDERAL CONTROL

In Address Makes Appeal to Business Men to Take Greater Interest in Government.

Gov. Caulfield spoke to the electrical industry of St. Louis at a luncheon of the Electrical Board of Trade yesterday at Hotel Statler, on the importance of State regulation of public utilities.

"The greatest enemy of the public utilities," the Governor said, "is the one who tries to avoid regulation by the State or to complicate it and make it ineffective. Such a one is the advance guard of public ownership or of drastic, unfriendly legislation."

The Governor was introduced by former Mayor Henry W. Kiel, his appointee as president of the Board of Police Commissioners.

"The public utility business has to be regulated or owned by the public, one or the other," Caulfield said. "By its very nature it should not be conducted on a competitive basis. Yet the public must not be turned over to the mercies of unregulated monopoly."

Against Federal Regulation.

"What kind of regulation should we have, and by what means? There is an impressive demand for Federal regulation, particularly of the electrical utilities. That does not appeal to me. I don't believe we can handle our own affairs better. My inclination is toward state rights in these matters. Here in Missouri 53.5 per cent of our electricity is imported from other states and it speaks well of our utilities that they have not opposed the regulation by the State of its sale after it comes in."

The Governor contrasted this with the opposition of "a utility in the western part of the State to regulation of natural gas that is brought in by pipe line from other states."

How to Curb Government Cost.

Gov. Caulfield asked for greater interest in Government by business men. He said taxes would not be lowered until the cost of government was reduced, and that the cost of government would not be reduced until there was a check on the demands made upon it by the public and by various groups, often with selfish interests.

He urged—as he has often urged before—a turn to a budgetary system wherein the Governor would be responsible for submitting a State budget which the Legislature could decrease but not increase.

"The theory of our Government," he said, "is that the Legislature should protect the people against extravagant expenditures by the executive. Actually the executive has to protect the State against the extravagant appropriations of the Legislature which yields to the enormous pressure of various powerful interests."

FREE PICKUP AND DELIVERY OF FREIGHT TO BE STARTED New Service for Shippers Arranged by Railroads of the South- west.

Railroads of the Southwest have arranged with trucking companies for a free pickup and delivery service of less than carload freight, which will begin tomorrow. Shippers who deliver their consignments to railroad stations will receive an allowance of 5 cents per 100 pounds, but no allowance will be made to the shipper who calls for his goods at their destination. The new arrangement applies to movements of less than carload freight of 300 miles or less. Certain commodities, including explosives, cotton and livestock, are excepted. About 100 railroads in the Southwest are to participate. The territory they cover includes parts of Missouri, Colorado, New Mexico, the cities of East St. Louis and Memphis, Tenn., and the states of Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Kansas.

In connection with the new service, the Cotton Belt has a new overnight freight delivery between St. Louis and Shreveport, La. A fast freight train will leave St. Louis each afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, arriving at Shreveport before noon the next day.

MAN DIES OF AUTO INJURIES; NEGRO IS KILLED BY BUS

Farmer of Affton Succumbs
at Hospital to Fractured Skull — Struck by Machine a Week Ago.

Bernhard Mayer, 69 years old, a farmer of Affton, died at St. Louis County Hospital today of a fractured skull suffered a week ago when struck by an automobile on Tesson avenue in Affton. Theodore Siebert, a carpenter, 4733 Heidelberg avenue, yesterday said he did not see Mayer in time to stop.

An unidentified Negro, about 40, was killed at 6:40 p. m. yesterday when run over at Third street and Washington avenue by a bus of the Peoples Motorbus Co. Chauffeur Kirby Buscher had just started the bus, when he felt a jolt. He found the body of the Negro in the street. A wheel of the machine had passed over the head. Witnesses said the Negro walked against the side of the bus and was thrown beneath the wheel. He was 5 feet, 8 inches tall, weighed 160 pounds, and was dressed in laborer's clothing. The body is at the morgue.

Woman Hit by Auto and Injured;

Rowland E. Webster, 74, 1809 Morgan street, suffered fractured ribs and a skull injury last night when he tripped over a towing cable between two automobiles at Seventeenth street and Washington avenue. Mrs. Zelpha Tully, 6203 Ridge avenue, whose car was being towed, said Webster did not see the cable and walked between the machines.

Louis Smith, 9, 800 Westwood place, Kirkwood, was cut and bruised yesterday when struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. G. B. Sommers of Glendale.

AWARDED SPEEDBOAT TROPHY FOR RECORD UP MISSISSIPPI

C. F. Schokmiller, One of Pilots of Miss Evinrude II, Gets Koenig Honor.

The Koenig Trophy Committee decided last night that C. F. Schokmiller, one of the pilots of Miss Evinrude II, the little outboard motor boat that concluded a 78-hour run from New Orleans to St. Louis Monday night, was entitled to the trophy offered by Edwin C. Koenig, commodore of the St. Louis Yacht Club, for the speedboat record between the two cities.

Schokmiller and George Blach Jr. made minor repairs to their boat, but the committee ruled that these were within the trophy regulations. Miss Evinrude II broke by 10 hours the record formerly held by Dr. Louis Leroy, Memphis. The unofficial record for the New Orleans-St. Louis run, 74 hours and 31 minutes, is held by Frederick Smith, Memphis, owner of the 26-foot motor boat Greyhound, in which he made the run.

Screams and Hurls Boxes

Miss Carrie Brechtel, clerk in the Martha Washington candy store at 603 North Grand boulevard, frustrated a holdup at 7:15 o'clock last night by screaming and throwing empty boxes toward the front window when an armed man attempted to rob the store.

Miss Brechtel, who lives at 5463 Delmar boulevard, was in the store when the robber, a young man dressed in a brown suit and hat, entered and walked by her toward the back of the store.

"He told me to get into the back room," Miss Brechtel said, "but he looked like such a kid that I said, 'You'd better get out of the store.' Then he drew a pistol, and I started to scream and throw empty boxes into the front show window. Without another word he ran out of the store."

Miss Brechtel said that a traffic officer had told her to keep near the front of the store when alone, in order to prevent holdups.

The young woman was not molest-

ST. LOUIS CONCERN TO MAKE BOOTS FOR NEW ROAD PATROL
Central Shoe Co. Gets Contract; Footwear From England Used as Sample.

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 30.— Superintendent Lewis Ellis of the new State highway patrol announced today that arrangements
had been made for obtaining Missouri made boots for the patrol.
The footwear will be made by the Central Shoe Co. of St. Louis at its Moberly plant on a special order for the department. It will be a black calfskin, full lace, military boot. About 120 pairs will be made.

When attempting to obtain uniform boots Ellis found the style desired by the patrol could be obtained only from an English concern. The boot was, however, considered only as a sample for the Missouri requirement.

Ellis announced the award of a contract for 70 .38 caliber revolvers
to be used by the patrolmen. 28,000 rounds of target ammunition for the training school period, and 30,000 rounds of service ammunition for equipment. The revolvers were purchased at a cost of $18.65 each.
Fifteen motorcycles for use on the highway also have been contracted for at a rate of $323.85.

TWO KILLED, 22 HURT IN MINE STRIKE RIOT
Train Load of Royal Canadian Mounted Police Sent to Estevan, Sask.

By the Associated Press.
ESTEVAN, Sask., Sept. 30.—The fatal shooting of two strikers and the wounding of 13 policemen and 10 civilians in a riot between striking coal miners and constabulary brought a trainload of Royal Canadian Mounted Police to Estevan
today to preserve order.

For almost an hour last night
police tried to stop 400 miners who paraded through the city despite police orders to the contrary.

The strikers formed outside the city limits. Policemen tried to block their entrance. The miners, armed with clubs, wrenches, pipes and stones, forced their way forward.

Police established a battle zone
at the town hall and ordered a fire truck to spray the strikers. When this failed to deter the marchers police fired several times in the air and then at the crowd. Two strikers died within a few moments

at an emergency hospital in the town hall.

Five other strikers fell wounded
and five bystanders, including an English woman visitor and a music teacher, also were wounded. An hour after the rioting began,
enough policemen had arrived to quell the disturbance.

Later, Saskatchewan Government officials sent a special train from Regina with 50 Royal Canadian policemen fully armed for riot and strike duty.

After the shooting, Levine said,
the four men ran from the apartment and he accompanied them.

Collection of Damages He Helped to Fix.

Circuit Judge Hall questioned George W. Johnson, an attorney and real estate dealer, yesterday, about the collection by Johnson of several damage awards in the Gravois avenue widening case, in which Johnson was a condemnation commissioner.

Johnson, a former Deputy Circuit Clerk, was appointed a commissioner for the rehearing of the Morgan street widening case by Judge Hall last week and also is a commissioner in the St. Louis avenue widening. He offered to resign as a commissioner if his action in the Gravois case was embarrassing the court, but Judge Hall, expressing confidence in Johnson's integrity, did not ask him to do this.

The Gravois District Association, which has opposed the benefit assessment for the Gravois widening, adopted a resolution Monday night asking that Johnson's appointment as a Commissioner be revoked and that his conduct in collecting for property owners damage awards which he had participated in fixing be investigated. August G. Wals, president of the association and a lawyer, who has led the objections to the Gravois plan, gave copies of the resolution to the Circuit Judge yesterday.

The resolution declared that Johnson, acting as an attorney, collected the following damage awards in Circuit Court for property owners: William A. Federer, $20,000; Otto Zeman, $2920; Barbara Walker, $6610; Rose Pieper, $9200; and John Sobory, $12,150, a total of $121,020.

Johnson, whose office is at 2624 Gravois avenue, told the Post-Dispatch he had collected these, and also another small amount for Zeman, about $5000 for Mary Weiss and about $2000 for the Benz Investment Co. He said he made the collections as a matter of accommodation for neighborhood acquaintances because he was familiar with the details of procedure. He made no charge for this service, he declared, but all of the owners, he added, except Federer and Sobory—for whom he collected the largest sums—voluntarily gave him small fees. The largest fee, he said, was $50 or $75 from Mrs. Walker and the total he received was $100 to $150. He said that any property owner could have collected the award without employing an attorney.

The Commissioners had finished their work in the case a long time before judgment was entered, and the award became available, Johnson pointed out. City Attorneys said that Federer had not acquired his property, a business building at Jefferson and Gravois avenues, until a year after the commissioners' report was filed and that the damage award on this structure was fair. Federer said he had not paid Johnson for collecting the money. Johnson said he had not represented any of the persons, for whom he collected awards, before the report was filed.

Judge Hall said that the fact Johnson's fees for collecting awards were negligible was sufficient proof that Johnson had not been in deals to profit in case large awards were made. In a property owner's motion to set aside judgment in the Gravois case, more than a year ago, attention was called to the same collections mentioned in the resolution. The motion was overruled.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—A group of prominent Hindus attending the Indian round-table conference here have made a protest against the international radio broadcast address of Aga Khan, Moslem leader and racing enthusiast, Sunday night.

The protest expressed the hope that no reply would be attempted while the conference was in session, but warned the public of the United States and Europe not to accept at face value allegations "made by one whose visits to India have for a long time been both infrequent and brief."

THIS SUMMER MARKED BY WEATHER EXTREMES

Hotter Earlier and Later Than in Any of 58 Preceding Years.

With summer at an end, records of the Weather Bureau, on top of the Railway Exchange Building, disclose extremes of temperature and rainfall for the four-month period ending today.

It became very hot earlier and stayed hot later than in any summer in the 58 years of the Bureau's history. The week of June 25-July 1, with an average temperature of 81.1 degrees, was the hottest June week on record and the seven-day period ending Sept. 21, averaging 84.1—or 14 degrees higher than normal—was the warmest period recorded for that late in the season.

All the days in between, however, did not approach this standard. For example, at the end of August, rainfall for the first eight months of the year was 3.78 inches below the normal expectancy of 26 inches; the next day, Sept. 1, was the wettest 24-hour period for any September on record, with a precipitation of more than four inches, so that the record shows rainfall to have been only 3 inches less than normal. Total precipitation for September was 5.68 inches.

There was some relief from excessive heat in August and September with mean temperatures

77.2 and 76.9 degrees, respectively, as compared with a mean of 78.9 for the entire summer. The average for June was 79.6 and for July, 82.2. The coolest day was last Sunday when the temperature dropped to 51.

The river stage has been the lowest on record all summer. With a normal stage for September of 9.1 feet, the reading on Sept. 1 was —0.4 feet. Augmented by the heavy rains of this month, today's reading is 5.6, or about 3½ feet below normal.

September days were clearer than usual. There were only three cloudy days, 19 clear ones and eight with scattered clouds. Thunderstorms were recorded on five days.

She had taught voice culture at various times at the old Forest Park College, Lenox Hall, and the Krone School of Music. She is survived by her husband, William A. Carter, a former member of the State Legislature, and two daughters, Mrs. Paul A. Roth, of University City and Mrs. Ewing S. Riley of Beverly Hills, Cal. The funeral will be held Friday at 2:30 p. m. at Alexander's undertaking establishment, 6175 Delmar boulevard. Burial will take place in Oak Grove Cemetery.

LOS ANGELES DISTRICT VOTES FOR $200,000,000 AQUEDUCT

Project Will Provide Water from Colorado River for 7,000,000 Persons.

By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 29.—Southern California yesterday voted almost 5 to 1 to issue $200,000,000 Colorado River aqueduct bonds, which will provide a water supply for an estimated population of 7,000,000.

The aqueduct will bring water across the Great American Desert from the Colorado River, a distance of 266 miles, and distribute it to 13 cities which have organized the metropolitan water district.

Frank E. Weymouth, chief engineer for the metropolitan water district, said today his staff was ready to start work immediately on the project.

The cities to which the aqueduct will furnish water are Los Angeles, Long Beach, Glendale, Beverly Hills, Burbank, Anaheim, Pasadena, Fullerton, Santa Ana, Torrance, Compton, Santa Monica and San Marino.

Several of the communities which held elections yesterday also voted approval of contracts with the Federal Government for the purchase of electrical power to be generated at Hoover Dam.

$3500 Loss in County Fire.

Firemen of Engine Co. No. 56, Kingshighway and Nottingham avenue, made a run to Sappington and Gravois roads at 3:45 a. m. today to fight a fire that started in a barbecue stand and spread to an oil filling station and a residence nearby. The property is owned by J. A. Tautehaus who estimated the loss at $3500. The St. Louis Fire Department receives a fee for answering alarms in St. Louis County.

TELLS OF ARREST OF ROTHSTEIN PAL IN TAMMANY CLUB

Former Police Lieutenant

Testifies Before New York City Investigators

About Gambling Raid.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Samuel Seabury, counsel to the legislative committee investigating city affairs, entered in evidence today files relating to the late Arnold Rothstein to show that "Baldy" Froelich, gambler arrested in a raid on the Tammany Clubhouse, of Sheriff Thomas Farley, was a close associate of Rothstein.

When the hearing opened today Seabury called former Police Lieut. Ezekiel E. Keller, who raided the club on May 29, 1926. Keller testified Froelich was among those arrested and that he was known as an operator of large gambling games and an associate of Rothstein.

Seabury then informed the committee that through the courtesy of the United States Attorney's office he had obtained certain files relating to Rothstein and showing the character of Froelich. Having shown that Froelich was an associate of Rothstein, Seabury turned to the subject of raids on the Democratic club of Harry C. Perry, chief clerk of the City Court.

101 Prisoners Taken.

Keller said he conducted the first raid, which was made on the club on Aug. 30, 1926, in which 101 prisoners were taken.

"A considerable number of the prisoners were recognized by me as men who had frequented other gambling games in other localities in New York," the witness said.

Assemblyman Cuvillier, a member of the committee, cross-examined the witness, asking if he had received instructions to suppress gambling games from Police Commissioners McLaughlin, Warren and Whalen. Keller answered that he understood the instructions came from Commissioners McLaughlin and Warren. He also testified that Mayor Walker to his knowledge was never mentioned in instructions as to suppression of gambling.

Professional gambling could not exist in New York City if it were not protected by "politicians and others," Keller told the committee.

Philip D. Hoyt, first deputy Police Commissioner, was placed on the stand to bear out the contention of Democratic members of the committee that Mayor Walker supported the efforts of Warren, when Police Commissioner, to suppress professional gambling in Democratic clubs.

Tells of Conversation.

Hoyt said he was present at a conversation between Warren and Capt. Lewis A. Valentine on the day Warren took office. He quoted Warren as saying: "There are reports in the newspapers that there is going to be an attempt to open up gambling in the city. The Mayor insists and I insist that nothing of that kind occurs and I will hold you personally responsible."

Describing interference with his work as a gambling raider and head of a secret study of vice conditions, Capt. Valentine testified that Warren had resigned Dec. 26, 1926, with a letter containing bitter criticism of police methods and political pressure.

Mayor Walker refused to accept the letter, the captain said. Valentine added that he himself, learning of the letter's contents, advised Warren the communication was unwise. For a day the Commissioner remained firm. He changed the letter, omitting the criticism. At the instance of his law partners and his wife, the witness testified, Valentine's testimony included the statement that he had been demoted by Warren's successor, Grover Whalen, without notice.

Demoted Three Grades.

Two days after Whalen took office, Valentine asserted, he was stepped down three grades, sent to a Queens "goat pasture" and the records of his investigation into vice, narcotics and gambling were sealed up and stored away. His squad was abolished. Seabury had Valentine read into the record the names of 60 or more members of his squad transferred by Whalen's official order.

The Captain testified that in most gambling raids he had conducted prisoners were freed in Magistrate's courts for lack of evidence. In one case he appealed to the District Attorney's office, he said, to have them sent to the grand jury. "We never got before a grand jury," he added.

GOVERNOR SAYS STATE SHOULD DO OWN RELIEF WORK

Addresses First Meeting of Unemployment Commission Assembled to Organize.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 30.—Missouri should bear its own load in the relief of unemployment within the State, Gov. Caulfield declared this afternoon in an address to the new State Commission on Unemployment Relief, outlining his suggestions for its work. The commission, appointed last week by the Governor, held its first meeting here this afternoon to organize and make preliminary plans for its activities.

Stating he had no desire to dictate the program of the commission, the Governor suggested its activities include the following purposes:

A survey to determine the extent of unemployment within the State.

To stimulate emergency relief work so that no Missourian shall be in dire distress.

To encourage every form of increased employment, even at some sacrifice on the part of employers. "Even charity is less devastating to the morale of our citizens," the Governor said, "if given in the form of employment."

To establish and increase the confidence of the people as to business.

"Essentially Local Problems." The commission, composed of 47 members drawn from all sections of the State, was appointed by the Governor last Sept. 25, following the issuance of a proclamation in which he said an emergency existed, and that it was necessary to arouse citizens of the State to the necessity for immediate action to relieve conditions.

The Governor, in his address to the commission, said the solution of the unemployment problem and the furnishing of relief to unemployed persons, essentially were local problems, and that the commission should co-operate with local agencies.

He said he had been informed that there were approximately 115,000 men and women in the State who were out of work, or about 8 per cent of the gainful workers, but suggested that the commission determine the exact extent of the unemployment.

"Unfortunately, the number of unemployed is very much exaggerated in the minds of many," the Governor said. "This has influenced many who are normally able to provide employment, as well as those who, by their purchases, make work for others."

"So you not only will have to face unemployment, but must seek to dispel fear, and encourage our citizens to resume their normal course in trade and industry."

Recalls Past Depressions. The Governor declared the present depression was not as severe as others in the past, and recalled there had been 17 major depressions in the history of the United States. He said the American people emerged from each of them to attain greater heights of prosperity.

The Governor said that, while only 8 or 10 per cent of the people apparently were directly affected by unemployment, a much larger percentage had "become timid in purchasing because of alarm and uncertainty."

He suggested business concerns and industries should be encouraged to employ additional men and women for at least two or three months this winter, and that where possible employers should give assurance of continued employment. Plant improvements should be stimulated among industries, the Governor said, because of the present low cost of materials. The State Highway Department would carry on its great construction program as rapidly as possible, to aid employment, he said.

Jobs or Relief. "Relief must be given where jobs cannot be found," the Governor said. "Every community should rise to meet and perform this high duty. Not only food, fuel and clothing, but shelter must be provided for those in dire need because of unemployment."

"Every citizen should do his part, and give his share. In this connection, for the sake of economy, it would be folly to create new agencies for relief purposes, where efficient agencies are already functioning. Utilizing existing machinery saves money and assures a more intelligent administration of relief."

"The responsibility for relief is local, and every citizen should give according to his means."

$6000 Fire at the Arena. A frame barn at the Arena was destroyed by fire at 8 o'clock last night with a loss of $6000. The fire, of undetermined origin, was discovered by a watchman. The building, at the rear of the Arena group, was used as a receiving barn, and was unoccupied. When horses were stabled there for a horse show, a company of firemen is stationed on the grounds to protect the animals.

EMPLOYMENT UP 12 PER CENT IN MANUFACTURING IN YEAR

Payrolls Show Decrease of 20 Per Cent; Figures by Bureau of Labor Statistics.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Employment in manufacturing industries decreased 12.4 per cent during the year ending with August. In the same time payrolls totaled declined 20.8 per cent. These figures were made public today by the Bureau of Labor statistics.

Two groups, textiles and leather, showed practically no change in employment for the year, but each of the other groups showed both decreased employment and payroll totals with the drop in earnings in each instance being greater.

Of 12,265 establishments in 64 industries reporting, two per cent of the plants were idle, 55 per cent were working full time, and employees of 43 per cent were on part time.

Employees in the establishments in operation during August worked an average of 89 per cent of full time, the same as the previous month. In those working part time, employees averaged 75 per cent of full time operation.

The average per capita earning reported for the month amounted to $23.02 a week for all groups surveyed. The manufacturing average wage was $22.10.

PARNELL ASSAILS FARM BOARD

Arkansas Governor Urges Abolition of Its Power Relating to Cotton.

By the Associated Press.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 30.—Gov. Harvey Parnell in a radio address last night urged farmers to join him in asking Congress to abolish the Federal Farm Board's power relating to cotton. Characterizing the Farm Board as "irresponsible," Parnell said it "is the greatest handicap the farmer has to overcome."

"Ostensibly," he said, "it was created to help him, but, instead of helping, has caused panic and alarm in the cotton market and has done much to bring distress and suffering to the farmer. For that reason I ask all farmers to join me in urging our Senators and Congressmen to repeal that part of the Federal Farm Board act pertaining to cotton. To be perfectly frank, the Farm Board has done more to destroy the market price of cotton than overproduction or increase in foreign acreage."

GANGSTER BOMMARITO FREED ON CHARGE OF BOMBING

Circuit Attorney Nolle Prosses Case Convicted There Is No Evidence Against Prisoner.

A charge of bombing, placed against William Bommarito, gangster, after an explosion Aug. 28 near a handbook shop at 15 North Seventh street, was dismissed by the Circuit Attorney's office when Circuit Attorney Miller had said it was called for preliminary hearing today.

Bommarito's $5000 common law bond was discharged yesterday by Judge Weinbrenner in Court of Criminal Correction. Assistant Circuit Attorney Lennen said then the case would not be presented to the grand jury because investigation by police had persuaded them that Bommarito had no connection with the explosion.

HUGHES URGES REFORM IN COURT PROCEDURE

Says Lawyers Should Aid Bench in Bringing About Improvement.

By the Associated Press.
RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 30.—Chief Justice Hughes urged the lawyers of the nation last night to use every possible means to improve the administration of justice. Speaking at a dinner in his honor given by the Virginia Bar Association and the Richmond City Bar Association, the Chief Justice said this was one supreme interest in which the public had a right to expect a sincere desire for co-operation among lawyers.
One of the most promising instrumentalities for dealing with conditions in the Federal Courts, he said, was the judicial conference of senior court judges as provided in a congressional act of 1922. The conference last year requested the Attorney-General to urge a change in the law to authorize it to recommend directly to Congress from time to time such changes in jurisdictional law as it might think desirable.

"The Congress, most probably as I think because of the pressure of its work," said the Chief Justice, "has not yet acted upon this recommendation, but I trust the suggestion will meet with approval in the near future, and that the conference may have this sanction for extending its activities."
Saying he always had believed judges, because of their first-hand knowledge of deficiencies, should be able to give valuable assistance in devising remedies, Hughes said he thought it most important that in this undertaking there should be constant co-operation of the bench and bar.
The public, he said, should have the advantage of the expert advice which the leaders of the bar could give by reason of comprehensive and continuous experience.

LETTER WRITERS FORGETFUL OF INCREASED POSTAL RATE

Mail Lacking Sufficient Stamps to Carry It to Canada Piling Up at Postoffice.

Letters for Canada with too small an amount of postage have been piling up in the Postoffice here since Sept. 1, since new postal rates with England, Ireland and Canada went into effect. The present rate to Canada is 3 cents for the first ounce and to England and Ireland 5 cents for the same amount.
Under existing regulations, postal officials must hold any mail for Canada on which there is not enough postage. Where return addresses are given, the mail is returned to the sender, but where no return address appears, the Postoffice has to notify the person to whom the letter is addressed, asking him to send the extra cent or other amount which is due. Up to Sept. 1, the domestic 2-cent rate applied to the three English countries.
In the case of letters addressed to England and Ireland, which do not have proper postage, international agreement permits them to be sent on, stamped with the amount of postage due. For those to Canada, however, postage must be paid in advance.

KILLS COUSIN IN PISTOL FIGHT

Missouri Farmer Is Wounded Badly Himself.

By the Associated Press.
OREGON, Mo., Sept. 30.—Homer Quimby, 35 years old, was slain and his cousin, John Quimby, 45, was wounded seriously yesterday as the two sought to settle a quarrel with pistols on a farm near Craig, Mo.
John Quimby, taken to a St. Joseph Hospital with a bullet wound in his abdomen, gave a partial account of the shooting to J. H. Pettigrew, Holt County Prosecutor, in which he said he drew his pistol in self-defense. He said the two men on the farm of Bud Adams and, after a short quarrel, he saw his cousin draw a .45-caliber pistol. Both fired once, he said. Their pistols jammed and they resorted to hand-to-hand fighting. Harry Freeman, who hid behind an automobile when the shooting began, said John apparently had the better of the fight, recovered his pistol and fired two more shots into his cousin's body. Homer was shot once in the neck and twice in the back.

INCREASE IN LIFE INSURANCE

Rise of $1,250,000,000 This Year Below Normal Gains.

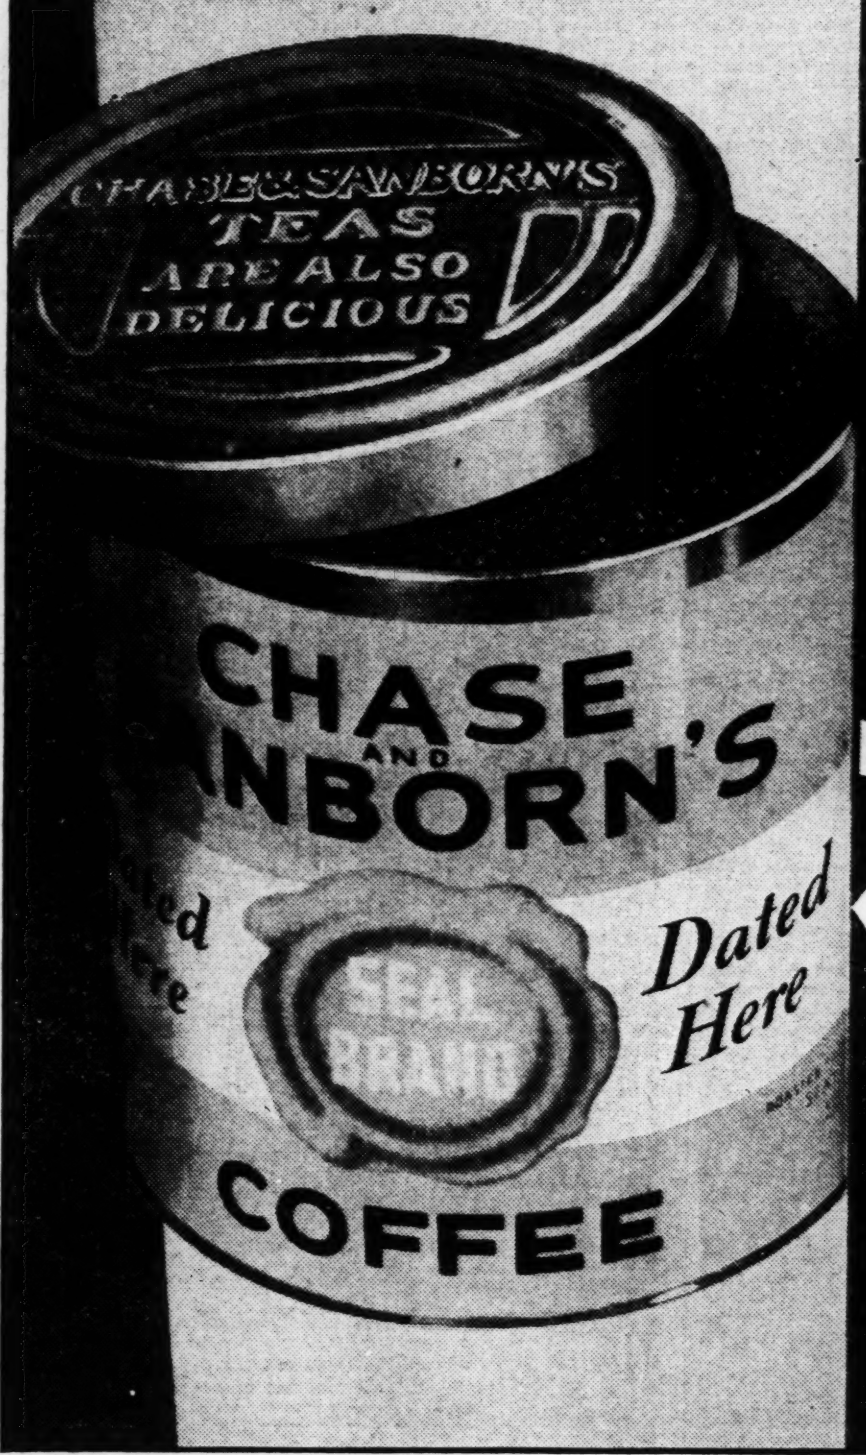

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The Association of Life Insurance Presidents said yesterday that despite the business depression "total life insurance in force among all United States legal reserve life insurance companies made a net increase of one and one quarter billion dollars" during the first half of 1931. This increase, however, is below the average gains for like periods in recent years.
"The 44 of our member companies which contributed their experience to the survey have 82 per cent of the total insurance outstanding in all United States legal reserve life insurance companies,"

LOOK FOR THE DATE ON THE CAN

TO GUARANTEE FRESHNESS, EVERY CAN OF CHASE & SANBORN'S COFFEE IS DATED THE DAY YOUR GROCER RECEIVES IT

Coffee is a fresh food . . . like milk or butter . . .
The DATE on this Coffee assures you of full flavor

NOW coffee is classed as a "fresh food" . . . And fine coffee flavor can be appreciated as never before.
For the first time, coffee is being brought to you by swift "fresh food" delivery—with the date on each can. After 10 days, any of this dated coffee that is unsold is immediately replaced with fresh.

This tremendous change has been brought about by one coffee importer—Chase & Sanborn, famous for packaging the precious blend that coffee lovers have known and valued for 65 years.

AND HERE IS THE REASON FOR THIS wonderful new move:

Recent research has shown that in every pound of coffee there is approximately half a cup of oil. Fresh, this delicate oil carries the marvelous flavor and delicate aroma you love in good coffee. Stale, it becomes rancid—toxic . . . The flavor and aroma of even the very finest coffee are marred. And this rancidity develops in days, not months, after roasting.

Scientists say this rancid oil is frequently a cause of indigestion, headaches, sleeplessness.

So CHASE & SANBORN'S COFFEE is now delivered fresh—with the date on each can—by the nation-wide system that brings you Fleischmann's Yeast fresh daily.

This guarantees you two things: A high-grade coffee at the peak of its flavor—and safety from the dangers of rancidity in stale coffee.

Buy a can of this superb coffee today. Enjoy its matchless aroma as it comes fresh from the roasters.

IT IS THE DELICATE OIL in coffee which makes it perishable . . . like milk or butter. Scientists say that stale coffee is frequently a cause of indigestion, headaches, sleeplessness . . . But fresh, it is an actual aid to digestion.

BACK FROM EUROPE; FINDS FIRM FOR SALE

Charles D. Todebush Says
For closure Arrangements
Were Made in His Absence.

When Charles D. Todebush, vice president and treasurer of the Cornwell Mill Furnishing Co., returned to St. Louis last spring from a 60-day trip to Europe he found arrangements had been made for a foreclosure sale of the company's equipment and the sale on April 14, six days later, left the company virtually without physical assets, he told Referee-in-Bankruptcy Coles yesterday.

Todebush said the company was in difficulties when he departed in February, but explained that he made the trip to establish buying connections in Germany as well as for pleasure.

Difficulties of the company, owned by the Todebush family, began in 1926, the witness said, causing him to mortgage its equipment to secure an indebtedness of $27,000 to creditors. A contributing factor was a judgment of $15,000 for injuries alleged to have been sustained in the company's plant and for which the company was insured only to the extent of $10,000, he said. He conceded, under questioning, that the company had obtained a release of its share of the obligation without payment.

The mortgage, he testified, was purchased from the creditors for $13,000 by Lee Hickox of Springfield, Mo., a friend of the Todebush family, who also advanced the company $5000, taking $7000 in accounts as security. Todebush said the trustee under the mortgage, whom he left in charge of the business during his trip, sold the equipment under foreclosure to a salesman and a shop foreman of the company.

He could not say whether the purchasers were acting for themselves or others, but said he was informed they were continuing in the same line of business. The bankrupt company manufactured equipment for flour mills.

After it was placed in bankruptcy June 12, the company listed liabilities of $39,810 and assets of $5368. Todebush said his father was president of the company but was inactive due to advanced age.

CLEARED OF CRUELTY TO PIGS
Farmer, Accused by Former Irene Castle, Released.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—A jury in Criminal Court has come to the conclusion that the diet and home life of Farmer William Schroeder's pigs are all that they should be.

By its decision, given yesterday, Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin, the famous dancer, lost what appeared to be the final round in her fight with Farmer Schroeder whom she accused of being cruel to his pigs, by feeding them unpalatable fare and allowing them to walk around in the mud on his farm near Wheeling, Ill. Schroeder was convicted in a lower court and fined $10. He appealed to the Criminal Court and obtained a reversal of the decision.

FREED OF KILLING BETRAYER

Kentucky Woman Shot Man as He Left Another Girl's Home.
OWENSBORO, Ky., Sept. 30.—Miss Jimmie Roberts, 23 years old, was acquitted here yesterday of a charge of murdering Philip Groezinger last May. She testified she shot and killed him after he struck her on the head and attempted to choke her.

Miss Roberts said she met Groezinger on the night of May 2 as he left the home of Miss Clara Blocher and asked him when he was going to marry her. Groezinger struck her, she testified when she refused to follow his advice to have an illegal operation performed.

We've been making Carbona Cleaning Fluid for over 25 years. Women tell us it is the most successful cleaning fluid made.

But the different way
that most silks are manufactured now-days makes it impossible for any cleaning fluid to remove grease spots from silks without leaving a ring. This has made necessary a different kind of cleanser for silks—one that absorbs grease instead of dissolving it.

And so we have developed a new-type cleaner made especially for silks...
Carbona Grease-Absorbent Powder. It works wonders on silks...makes grease

not leave a ring. Use Carbona Powder

NEW YORK, Sept. 30. — In effect, it seems, the New York State Athletic Commission has told Benny Leonard, one of the greater fighters in boxing history, to go out and get a reputation.

The commission declined to sanction a bout between the retired undefeated lightweight champion and Paulette Walker, hard-hitting young middleweight from Trenton, N. J., and informed Leonard that he would have to prove his ability in the smaller fight clubs before appearing again in Madison Square Garden. The Garden had booked the Leonard-Walker battle for October 16, with every indication of a sell-

The led in barring Leonard from the Walker bout was taken by 87-year-old William Muldoon, famed "solid man," who maintained that Leonard's seven-year absence from the ring justified the commission's action. He was backed up vigorously by the commission chairman James A. Farley.

No hint of such action came a week ago, when Leonard applied for and was granted his boxing license. It was that which ruffled the former king of the lightweight division, a 4'10" bug, who wasn't told about this when I applied for my license," Benny said. "That would have given me the chance to look elsewhere for a sponsoring opponent."

But Leonard will not let the commission's action balk him in his plans for a come-back. He and his managers have opened negotiations for a match against Paul Silvers at the Queensboro Stadium Oct. 6.

Not only does Leonard wish to recoup some of the financial losses

"One-eyed" Connelly, widely known game-crasher of national events, has arrived from Detroit where he had attended the American Legion convention. Connelly says he has missed only one nationally series since 1902 and intends to see both games here, although he has only $1.50 in his pockets. He would not tell how he intended to reach the gate, but said he used a blank pasteboard for one game and crowded his way through at the second game of the 1926 series. For the benefit of world series visitors, the $10,000 Fairmount Handicap, one of the features of the fall season at the jockey club, was called this afternoon. Little Betting on Cards.

Wagering on the outcome of the world series is lighter this year than last, according to Tom Kearney, betting commissioner. Those willing to put their money on the Cardinals are particularly scarce.
Because of this situation, the Philadelphia backer can get odds of 1 to 3 on the Athletics. This means that the commissioners will bet $1 against $3 that the Athletics will lose the series. The same sit-

AT WORLD SERIES

Philadelphia on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. If the series is not decided by then the remaining games will be played in St. Louis.

Four victories are necessary to win

the championship. If any game has to be postponed on account of rain, it will be played on the following day and each succeeding

game will be played one day later than originally scheduled. In the event of a tie game, the tie will be played off after the remaining scheduled games have been played.

To handle the crowd in the park

and on adjacent streets Chief Clerk detained 160 policemen. They will be under command of four Captains. The force of uniformed

at the park has been increased for the championship games and during the past several days has been drilled in getting ticketholders to their seats with the least possible confusion.

The Philadelphia team was accompanied by Mayor Mackey of Philadelphia, Thomas S. Shibe,

owner of the club, and several other municipal and club officials.

Mayor Mackey will be one of several scores of municipal and

State officials and former officials from various points, to attend the series. These will include Gov.

Harvey Parnell of Arkansas, Gov.

Harry Woodring of Kansas, and former Senator James A. Reed of Kansas City. Gov. Caulfield will not be able to attend the first game

but has announced he expects to see the second.

Baseball headquarters is at Hotel

Harrison. There is a special

President John A. Heydler of the National League and scores of sports and features writers for newspapers and news syndicates.

President William Harridge of the American League is at Hotel

Coronado. Other hotels likewise report capacity guest lists, due to the world series and the opening of the fall buying season.

"One-eyed" Connelly, widely known gate-crasher of national events, has arrived from Detroit,

where he had attended the American Legion convention. Connelly

says he has missed only one world series since 1927 and intends to see both games here, although he has only $1.50 in his pockets. He would not tell how he intended to crash the gate, but said he used

a blank pasteboard for one game

and crowded his way through at the second game of the 1926 series.

For the benefit of world series

visitors, the $10,000 Fairmount

Handicap, one of the features of the fall season at the jockey club,

was carded this afternoon. Tonight

there will be a wrestling card at

The Arena, including a "championship match" between Jimmy Londons and Hans Kamper.

Little Betting on Cards.

Wagering on the outcome of the world series is lighter this year than

last, according to Tom Kearney, betting commissioner. Those willing to put their money on the Cardinals are particularly scarce.

Because of this situation, the Philadelphia backer can get odds of 1 to 2 on the Athletics. This means that the commissioners will bet $1 against $2 that the Athletics

will lose the series. The same situation puts the odds against the Cardinals at 2-to-1. The commis-

PART THREE.

PARLIAMENT TO BE ADJOURNED, WITH PROGRAM ENACTED

MacDonald, Voted Power of Orders in Council, Announces Session Will End
Next Wednesday.

BILL TO PREVENT SOARING OF PRICES

General Election Question
Undecided for Another Week—Premier to Visit
His Constituents.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 30.—Parliament
will adjourn next Wednesday.
Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald informed the House of Commons today.

By Wednesday, MacDonald said,
Parliament will have completed
the emergency program laid out by the National Government when it took office to meet the nation's financial crisis. Both the economy bill, carrying out retrenchments all along the line of Government expenditure, and Chancellor Philip Snowden's supplementary budget, will be enacted in the next seven days.

The Prime Minister said also that a short measure would be enacted to deal with food profits
in view of the fact that prices already were beginning to soar in London. The Government, in suspending the gold standard recently for six months, announced such a protective measure would be passed.

As to general election.
If the Government decides to go to the voters, the adjournment
will be accompanied by dissolution
of Parliament and a call for an immediate election with the polling day in October. If the House is not adjourned, the Government's plan will be to let the country settle down and give the people time to see the effects of the work it has done.

Mr. Henderson asked when the House would meet again, the Prime Minister suggested he repeat the question next week. Another Labor member then asked him to alleviate the feelings of the House
by saying whether there would be an election. MacDonald replied he thought his answer to Henderson had greatly relieved the Commons.

The Press Association said most of the members of the House of Commons concluded the Government had decided to dissolve Parliament Thursday or Friday following adjournment and call a general election for Oct. 28 or 29.

While the nation is awaiting an announcement on the question of holding an early general election,
MacDonald, who talked with King
George on the subject yesterday,
has decided to go to Seaham Harbor Friday night to put the question of a general election before a meeting of his constituents, although the Seaham local Labor party organization already has demanded that he resign.

Although Britons are chary of bringing the crown in politics, it is accepted in political circles that the King asked MacDonald to consult with his National Government.
The King has been said to be anxious that, for the time being,
the Government avoid an appeal to the country in an election.

Will Explain Situation.
In requesting a hearing from his constituents, the Prime Minister takes the first opportunity to place before them his views regarding the events that led to the downfall of the Labor Ministry, the formation of the National Government and his own plans for the future.

While the Labor party has taken every means possible to discredit
him, he reminds the sitting member of the House of Commons for Seaham Harbor and his status as such is not affected. That he holds the support of many of the voters
as indicated by the close vote of 40 to 39 by which the local party
delegates repudiated his leadership.

MacDonald was encouraged last night when the House of Commons gave him a majority of 55 votes—297 to 242—on the third and final reading of the national economy
bill and sent it to the House of Lords, where it was given its first reading. It empowers the Government to make drastic cuts in the doles and salaries by orders in council and without further parliamentary action.

Sir Stafford Cripps, former So-liator-General, attacked the measure on the ground that it was "an attempt to carry out what the people of rights more than 200 years ago declared unconstitutional."

JULIUS H. BARNES URGES WAR DEBT REVISION, WORLD COURT AND DISARMAMENT

Presents 12-Point Program Calling for International Political Moratorium—A. H.
Wiggin Gives Ideas on Recovery.

By the Associated Press.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 30.—
Revision of foreign debts, adherence to the World Court and effective international disarmament topped a 12-point answer presented last night by Julius H. Barnes to the problem of American economic recovery. The chairman of the Board of the United States Chamber of Commerce emphasized the need of an international "political moratorium" through a Franco-German accord in a world program to overcome "a lack of general confidence."

He addressed the annual meeting
of the American Electric Railway Association. Rotation and spread of employment and adoption of a labor work week were included by Barnes in his suggestions for restoring enterprise in the United States. Other points were:

Revision of anti-trust laws
which, he said, "destroy the small business because it is unlawful to consult regarding production and distribution."

Framing our tax requirements
"to spread justly and fairly where they can best be borne without injury."

Giving regulated industry like the railroads "a fair chance to maintain their earnings and credit."
Tradition of Private Enterprise.
"Economy in national expenditures."

Reassurance that "we shall preserve the tradition of private enterprise," including specially termination of Farm Board operations in commodities, transfer of Western reserve lines to private interests and the end of agitation for Government operation of Mississippi Shoals.

"Step by step" tariff adjustment to represent "for the difference in wage scales and living standards against cheaper labor competitors."

Dependence on private resources for relief work and avoidance of Federal "charity" doles.

Barnes said adherence to the World Court would demonstrate "international co-operation and good will," and that to follow the "financial program should be framed with regard to the capacity to pay off our debts, leaving a margin of savings to rebuild their own capital."

Despite the achievement of a dominant financial position, he said France "cannot wholly escape all consequences of a disorganized Europe." French aid is much needed by Germany, Barnes said, and added:

"Steel helmet parades, pocket battleships, agitation against the Polish corridor at this time, tend to enlist friendly co-operation."
Need for Overseas Money.
Barnes said Germany needs
"overseas money to fill the credit vacuum," and that she must give evidence these credits will "not be dissipated in social services beyond their means."

He said the worst relies on British financial experience and that
"her retreat to second line trenches does not mean defeat."

Besides an atmosphere of peace and confidence in Europe, Barnes said that Montagu Norman had submitted his resignation as governor of the Bank of England and the directors would consider it in the near future, but there was no official confirmation of the report.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 30.—The brokers' syndicate that has control of the operations of stocks on the Paris Bourse today issued an order designed to prevent short selling.
The order specifies that future operation will require the depositing of the stocks offered or a 40 per cent coverage plus a quarter of the stocks offered or proof of possession.

Approximately 200,000,000 francs (about $3,000,000) in gold were today by airplane from Amsterdam for consignment to Paris banks. About $1,920,000 was received in that manner yesterday.

WAGE CUT FIGHT PREDICTED UNLESS RAIL RATES RISE

Attorneys Forecast Controversy—I. C. C. Finishes Hearing on Proposed Increase.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The Interstate Commerce Commission
today closed hearings lasting two months and a half on the railroads' request for a 15 per cent freight rate increase and took the case under advisement. A decision is expected in three or four weeks.

The hearings ended with rebuttal arguments by attorneys for the railroads and railroad security holders.

During the closing arguments
Grenville Clark of New York, representing security holders, told the commission that a refusal to increase rates would participate a nation-wide controversy on the question of cutting wages of railroad employees.

"Everybody knows," he said,
"that denial of this application will accelerate and force an effort to cut wages of railroad workers."

Clyde Brown, chief attorney for the New York Central, said that he felt the commission had no alternative under the transportation act but to increase rates. Congress, he asserted, had made this mandatory
on a showing by the railroads that their revenues were below a fair return.

Referring to railroad wages,
Brown asked the commission to remember that in 1922, when it reduced railroad rates, a cut in wages
of railroad employees was effected
on the same date.

Lower railroad passenger rates
were proposed before the Commission yesterday as a means of restoring traffic to the lines.

Arguing against the 15 per cent increase, C. E. Blaine of Phoenix, Ariz., representing the American National Livestock Association, and J. H. Mercer of the Kansas Livestock Association, urged a thorough trial of lower passenger fares as a revenue producer.

Blaine reviewed conditions prevailing when the railroads asked for increases in the past.

"Conditions are different today," he said. "Then the railroads were not faced with constantly growing competition from trucks, busses, airways and airplanes."

"Their rates are not made according to costs or the worth of the service to shippers. They are made according to what the managers think the traffic will bear."

If the railroads can get revenue by increasing rates under the conditions, then all other industries are out of step.

"The evidence shows that in recent months the railroads have reduced thousands of rates. If they need revenue, why did they reduce rates? They know their rates are too high."

Some Mail Lost From Liner.
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Some mail being transferred from the In-de France to a mail boat was lost yesterday when a h-wser snapped as the ship sped toward pier after leaving quarantine. Several mail bags coming down the chute were thrown into the water. Nine were salvaged, but at the Postoffice marine division it was said some mail was missing.

CHINESE MINISTER ATTACKED BY MOB RESIGNS HIS POST

Wang Yields Foreign Portfolio to Alfred Sze, Representative in League of Nations.

By the Associated Press.
NANKING, Sept. 30.—Dr. C. T.
Wang, mobbed and seriously injured Monday by students who blamed him for failure to obtain the intervention of the League of Nations in the Sino-Japanese con-trovercy in Manchuria, resigned
today as Foreign Minister of the Nanking Government.

Alfred Sze, Chinese Minister to Great Britain and China's representative in the League of Nations, was named to succeed him.

Events of the last 10 days, which witnessed the occupation of Southern Manchurian cities by Japanese troops and the subsequent rejection
by the League Council of the Chinese appeal for intervention, so weakened Dr. Wang's standing with leaders of the Kuomintang, the dominant Chinese political party,
that he found it impossible to remain in office.

Pending the arrival of Sze from Geneva, Frank W. Lee, American-born Chinese and former Minister of this country to Mexico, will act as Foreign Minister. Lee, who was born in New York City, has been serving as Vice Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Soon after the change was announced a Foreign Office spokesman stated that the alleged independence movements in Manchuria following Japanese occupation must be regarded as having been instigated by Japanese since the areas affected were those occupied.

Despite Japan's formal declaration that she had no territorial designs upon Manchuria, the Nanking authorities tended to believe that spontaneous Chinese independence movements could evolve under conditions of occupation.

The foreign office spokesman
asserted the evidence supported the
belief that "the Japanese intend
to put the occupied areas under a Ja-
nese protectorate, thereby placing
serious obstacles in the way of a
peaceful and lasting settlement of

Representative Says Opinion Given

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The opinion of the Federal-State Muscle Shoals Commission that the Tennessee River project may be disposed of without congressional action is described as contrary to law by Representative James R.
Republican, Michigan.

James, who was chairman of the last House Military Committee which handled Muscle Shoals legislation, said the opinion prepared by Col. Joseph I. McMullen of the Army Adjutant-General's office,
and a member of the commission
misinterpreted the national defense act of 1918 and had overlooked a recent law prohibiting the sale of war department real estate with-

25 PCT. TAX RISE IN INDIA RECOMMENDED TO LEGISLATURE

Income and Salt Levies Affected in Drastic Budget Offered by Government.

By the Associated Press.
SIMLA, India, Sept. 30.—A temporary surcharge of 25 per cent on all existing taxes, except customs and export duties, is among the provisions of a drastic Indian budget introduced in the Legislative Assembly yesterday by Sir George Schuster, Minister of Finance.

The income tax and salt tax, for a long time a matter of contention between the British and Nationalists, are included in the proposed increase. The import duty of artificial silk is doubled to 40 per cent and raw cotton is to bear a minimum duty of one-half anna (1 cent) a pound.

Sir George said Viceroy Lord Willington would sacrifice 20 per cent of his salary and the pay of other high officials would be reduced.

The foreign office spokesman
belief that "the Japanese intend
to put the occupied areas under a Ja-
nese protectorate, thereby placing
serious obstacles in the way of a
peaceful and lasting settlement of

HOOVER REQUESTS $61,000,000 CUT IN NAVAL BUDGET

Calls on Secretary Adams to Reduce Estimates for Next Fiscal Year to $340,- 000,000.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Secretary of the Navy Adams and his Admirals are searching for a method by which they can curtail the Navy's expenses.

The Navy Secretary has been asked by President Hoover to reconsider budget estimates submitted for the next fiscal year.
The President wants the navy to cut its $401,000,000 estimates to $340,000,000. He does not desire that the decreases be made, however, at the expense of the current construction program, which might be slightly increased.

The Secretary announced yesterday an immediate slash in expenditures. The 11-deck destroyer program, authorized by Congress, was cut to five ships after approval for the others was withheld by the White House. He awarded contracts for five.

As President Hoover hopes to cut the 1932 expenditures to $340,- 000,000, while increasing the construction fund over the current year
from $30,000,000 to $45,000,000,
any curtailment must come from other bureaus. The budget for this year was $250,000,000.

To Rotate Vessels in Service.
A plan involving curtailed naval operation has been laid before Secretary Adams by Admiral William
V. Pratt, chief of naval operations. Basic naval policy would remain unaffected under the plan.
The plan involves rotation of vessels in service rather than constant use. Large savings in maintenance and personnel costs would result from this phase alone, it was explained.

Discord exists between the President and some department leuten-ants over appropriations.
Some navy executives have displeased him by working to get more money for that service than he considered warranted. Their activities drew a stern warning from him.

If Government departments advocate increased funds, through leas-ure of public statements or information to newspapers, the President will take to the people his insistence against the increases.

Original Building Program.
Details of the new building program for next year have never been made public. A list including two aircraft carriers, one destroyer
leader, one experimental six-inch gun cruiser, one flying deck cruiser and six fleet submarines, was described by one official as "substanc-ially correct" as the original program.

Naval officers and congressional leaders expressed the opinion that no new construction would be requested and that 1932 expenditures for construction would be on contracts already awarded.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight for the rights of the people, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy, or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Mr. Gifford Falls as Moses.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

SEVEN million unemployed Americans are looking for work from the man who has had the greatest opportunity afforded an American in this generation, are settling back in despair as Mr. Gifford's empty words ring like stones instead of bread.

"Work and buy" was his message to the public, and an analysis of his statement shows the dismal failure of his five weeks of study of the problem.

While the country is sick and tired of committees and commissions who do nothing but talk and attend banquets, he advocates more investigations and banquets.

An All-Star Charity Game.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

AFTER reading your editorial regarding the playing of two additional games in the world series for the benefit of the unemployed, I would like to suggest that a little world series be played in addition to the regular series.

That is, let some of the sport writers pick all the outstanding stars out of the National League and American League, and have them play a three-game series, all but actual expenses go to the unemployed. W. A. KIRKHAM.

Says Business Is Picking Up.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

REPORTS from everywhere show that the retail business barometer is rising. Early increase in fall buying is seen as cooler weather arrives. It can be proved that business is definitely on the upgrade after the summer slump. Right here in St. Louis department stores sales have shown a big increase during the past few weeks, and Atlanta, Chattanooga, Birmingham, Memphis and Little Rock report active buying recently. Business is 'a' going, and now that commodity prices are being adjusted to the deflation level business will continue on the upswing. EDWARD C. GOULD.

For a Gravel Street Dance.

ON the occasion of the grand opening of "the glorious trail to the Mississippi," newly widened Gravois boulevard, a street dance would be in order.

Our Uncompleted City Hall.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

THE exterior of our City Hall has never been finished. This, as Mayor Miller says is "a fact not generally known," and now that it is known, it is not likely to be generally known. "A great deal of carved stone work remains to be done," the Mayor says. Exactly. There ever a public building where a stone mason couldn't see the need for further embellishing touches? In pre-Mussolinian Italy, the law imposed a tax on completed church buildings. The tax worried no one, for no church was ever completed. Even in so matchless a structure as Milan Cathedral, a bit of scaffolding was always to be seen in some corner. Our City Hall, which has been likened to Paris Hotel de Ville, compares very favorably with that edifice in the extent of its external trimmings. Whether more stone-work would make it more civilly inspiring, the planners of the next bond issue may have to decide. C. H.

Thinks Reed Could Win.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

REED and Roosevelt would sweep the United States, just as McKinley and Roosevelt did in 1896. Reed is a native Missouri and Illinois, the doubtful states in the Central West, any time. And the Independent Republicans would split the party wide open to get to Reed.

The Democratic party would act wisely to nominate a ticket like this, if they hope to win. Reed is the best presidential timber in the United States today. Born in Ohio, the State of Presidents, Reed was one of the ablest Senators we have ever had.

Let us join together and make him President. H. B. GARVER.

Too Much Jazz.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

MAY I add my protest to that of other readers against the jazz the poor suffering public is forced to listen to?

Going over the programs of seven radio stations listed in this paper, I find exactly two and one-half hours given to classical music—mind you, this includes the time given to classical compositions from all of these stations.

How are we, mothers to keep our Mary Janses and Bobby Smiths practicing Mozart, Beethoven, Liszt and Wagner when all they hear is the constant howling of jazz from the radio?

The people who love classical music, of course, are in the minority, but aren't we entitled to some consideration? We paid for our radios too.

Let's get together. I'm sure there are enough true lovers of music still in existence to sound a protest that in the end must and will be heard.

TRUCK AND HIGHWAY.

The relation of the truck to the highway presents one of the problems of our time. It is not merely that the truck hogs the highway; it also increases the cost of maintenance.

When the first concrete highways were built in Missouri, they were not designed to carry heavily loaded trucks. Construction methods were not at that time as highly developed as they are now, when the concrete highways are better able to stand up under the pounding of those great juggernauts which have become the terror of the pleasure car. The State Highway Department has been replacing during this year considerable segments of highways 66, 61 and 40, but these replacements were less due to traffic than they were to expansion and contraction and to faulty subsoil conditions.

Highway engineers did not make at the outset the fine distinctions that are made now in the selection of soils for fills. Dirt was dirt, but experience has disclosed that the soil in some sections of the State is much better for this purpose than others. All these soils require different treatment. Some require more drainage than others, and some of them compress and pack with moisture more than others. The engineers now have about seven classifications in soil for subgrades in Missouri, and oftentimes, when undesirable soil is encountered in making a cut or fill, the proper soil is brought in for use. Where roads were built years ago without respect to the varying classifications of subsoil, the paving surface has shown a greater tendency to become rough, to crack or to break down.

The department has been doing a great deal of experimenting with expansion and contraction joints in cement. To minimize damage by expansion and contraction, the engineers now use steel wire reinforcing material in the pavements. Better drainage methods have been developed, and construction methods constantly are being improved. The result is that the newer roads are wearing better under heavy traffic than the older ones. Bridges have been strengthened. A great many of the first trucks had solid tires, which were hard on the highways. With the adaptation of pneumatic tires to trucks, the impact upon the highway was reduced. The State has also attempted to limit the weight of trucks and truck loads, with the result that the engineers do not consider now that the trucks are more than the pavements can stand.

Under the new law, a single four-wheel motor vehicle is limited to 24,000 pounds, including load; a combination of tractor and semi-trailer is limited to 35,000 pounds, including load. These weights are subject to proviso that the vehicle shall not have a weight of more than 16,000 pounds on one axle, nor a load of more than 6,000 pounds per inch of tire upon any wheel. The act does not apply to motor vehicles operating within the limits of a city of more than 75,000 population. The State Highway Commission has authority to reduce the maximum limits provided by the act by posting notices whenever the roads are in soft condition due to falls, long rains or new construction. The Highway Department has 15 inspectors who patrol the roads to check on overloading of trucks. They are equipped with weight testing instruments and have authority to stop any vehicle to determine if it exceeds the weight limits. Violation of the act is a misdemeanor. When a violation is found, the inspector turns the case over to the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the violation is detected.

It is on the gravel roads that the trucks are destructive. The maintenance cost for gravel roads in the State varies from $250 to $320 per annum per mile; for asphalt paving the annual maintenance cost varies from $450 to $600 a mile, and for cement paving it is $500 a mile. The maintenance budget for the State highway system has now reached about $4,000,000 a year. It will increase somewhat from year to year as additional roads are completed, as the roads grow older, and as the volume of traffic increases. All of the states have been compelled to limit the size and weight of trucks in defense of their highways, as all of them have been compelled to strengthen their highways to stand up under the trucks. The relation of the truck to passenger traffic is an even more difficult matter. Only the highway patrolmen can keep the truck from hogging the highway, and not even the highway patrolmen can remove the truck as a menace to passenger traffic. Trucks have become fast, and as their speed has increased the peril to passenger traffic has grown. Some of the states are moving to a separation of freight and passenger traffic, as some of the railroads long ago separated freight and passenger traffic by doubling and quadrupling their tracks.

Since the truck is already widely used and fast becoming more so, perhaps this is the solution of the problem so far as the highways are concerned.

GREETINGS FROM OTHER WORLDS.

We have it on the authority of the Bishop of Birmingham that many other worlds are inhabited and that "on some of them exist beings immeasurably beyond our mental level." Those were the very words the Bishop used in addressing the British Association for the Advancement of Science. Further, he ventured that right now those superior creatures are doing their best to convey messages to the earth. What they may be trying to tell us he did not intimate, but the chances are they are advising the sporting element to put its money on the Cardinals, interspersed with assurance that the end of the depression is just around the corner. Anyhow, if they are ethering anything else, these other-worldly wise men are wasting their fragrance on the desert stratosphere.

MR. COOLIDGE SPEAKS.

Mr. Coolidge is not a candidate for President, either actively or receptively. He is not a candidate for any public office. As far as words can do it, he has taken himself out of politics, now and forever, in his article in the Saturday Evening Post.

His decision is, we believe, what public opinion generally expected. There may be little groups in the Republican party disillusioned by this announcement. Those groups are actuated by various motives: dislike for Mr. Hoover and doubt that he can be re-elected; devotion to Mr. Coolidge and faith in his political star. But common sense has always rejected the reappearance of Mr. Coolidge in the political arena. Certainly if he tossed his hat into the ring now, the row would rip the party asunder. It might not be quite the Roosevelt-Taft Armageddon of 1912, but the poor old elephant would be a weary pack-dream after the tumult and the shouting.

Mr. Coolidge is as remote from the Roosevelt temperament as can well be imagined. His head is not fashioned for the "helmet of Navarre." Not his the heart of a warrior.

A shrewd individual, unpurged by restless ambition, who knows when to let well enough alone. That may not be greatness. It is wisdom.

GOV. DAVIS' DECISION.

Dwight F. Davis has announced definitely that he will not resign his post as Governor-General of the Philippines, but will take a leave of absence instead. This writes finis on a long series of rumors that for more than a year have represented the St. Louisan as planning to resign his important position. That Mr. Davis, holding one of the most difficult places in the country's service, has acquitted himself well is indicated by the fact that he was urged to remain in office both by Secretary of War Hurley and by many leading Filipinos. Of late, with the recurrence of independence agitation, the position has been doubly trying, yet he has retained the confidence of all factions. The Governor-General has adhered to the position he took in his inaugural address almost two years ago—to remain out of island politics, and to devote his energies to the economic and civil development of the Philippines. With the independence issue likely to come before the next Congress, and with Secretary Hurley recently in the islands preparing a report on this subject, it is fortunate that there will be no change in administration at present.

From the viewpoint of another American possession, Gov. Davis' decision is likewise beneficial. The person most prominently mentioned as his prospective successor has been Theodore Roosevelt, now Governor of Porto Rico. Mr. Roosevelt also has been doing an important work at his post, being responsible for great advances in economic and health conditions in Porto Rico. Much remains to be done there, however, and it would have been a poor time for personal ambition or orders from Washington to remove Gov. Roosevelt to another position. Both the Philippines and Porto Rico are largely content under their present administrations, and their peoples as well as our own Government are best served by continuance of the status quo.

HERCULES BATTING FOR GEORGE WASHINGTON. George Washington has been removed from Sculpture Hall at the Art Museum and has been replaced by Hercules, and Comptroller Nolte has been asked to do something about it. Well, the case against Hercules is pretty definite, and we suggest a meeting of the Ku Klux Klan and other patriots be called to hear and act upon it. In the first place, Hercules was a foreigner of very uncertain origin. It has been whispered that his father was Zeus and his mother Alcmena, wife of one Amphitryon of Tiryns. He was an itinerant strong man who astonished the yokels of ancient Greece by his skill in killing and capturing wild animals. Once, for nothing better to do, he cleaned out some stables. If he were living today, he probably would be barred from our shores by the immigration laws and, if he were not, Jimmy London would undoubtedly dispose of him with a couple of airplane spins and a body slam. Yet this non-American is put in a place of honor held since 1904 by George Washington. We can best reproduce our sentiments as follows: Tch, tch, tch.

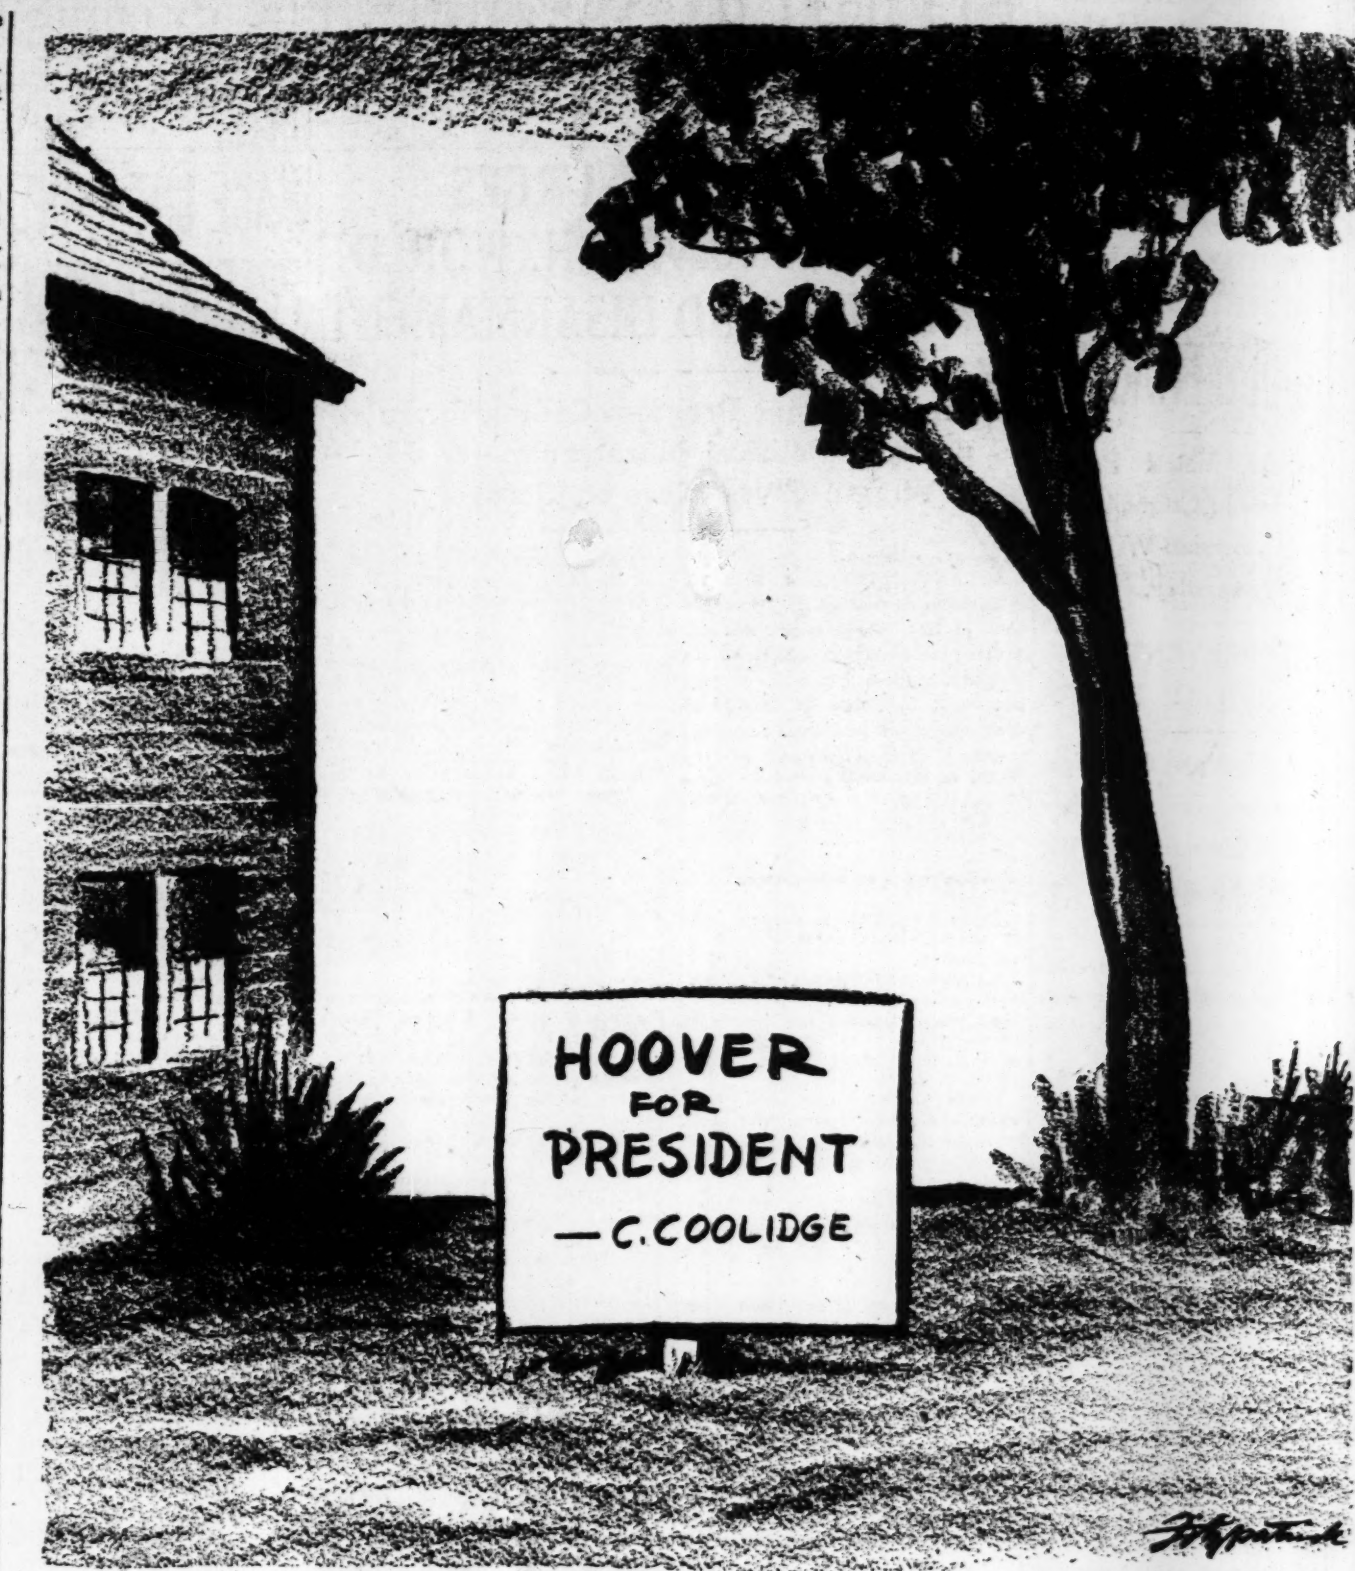

Both of Bishop Cannon's crutches were stolen in Europe this summer—one in Paris, the other in London. The London thief can be easily identified: it was poor old John Bull, himself, and he certainly needs a crutch.

OCTOBER BRINGS THE FOX HUNT. It is almost fox hunting time, and throughout the back hills country dog owners are as eager to be off in the chase as are Rogue, Noah, Jeff, Scottie, Gyp and Lad. Another day or two and the gathering of the hunters will be on. Another night or so and the horns will sound on the hill. For early October nights are clear and crisp and those are the kind to sit in the starlight, propped against a log, around a crackling wood fire, keeping track of the fortunes of the hunt by the mouthings of the pack. It is a chorus with a wildness that gets under the skin. Where are the dogs now? Skirting that hillside timber this side the far ridge. No other sound would board would throw back their frenzied voices so plainly. And now? They must have dipped off yonder through the river bottom cornfield, so indistinct is the baying. Rogue is in the lead. Righto, and now they are climbing again through the pawpaw grove and across the stump-studded clearing, much nearer than before. It is a sport that everyone concerned revels in. The hunters swap yarns of historic meets of the past; the hounds have the holiday of the year; Ber Fox, good scout that he is, leads a long and merry chase until the dogs tire out, and he finally slips off with down to his wood lodge to enjoy the last laugh. There is the purple of royalty, the stir of drama, the camaraderie of the campfire out where the rail fence zigzags up a moonlight flooded pasture into the dark covering of low cedars at the top of the ridge.

We have the confidence, says Manager Street, and confidence wrapped up with airtight pitching and over-the-fence-awattling is, we fain would remark, quite a package.

ADVANCE DOPE ON THE SERIES. What this country needs, on this eve of the world series, is cool, aloof judgment of the relative teams, free of the rancors of partisanship. It is true the experts have been turning out reams of copy, but it is all tainted by loyalty and self-interest. In an effort to provide disinterested opinion, we have interviewed some personages far removed from the bloody battleground at Sportsman's Park. Mahatma Gandhi: "My advice to the Athletics is non-resistance, especially when Hallahan is pitching. He will walk them." Herbert Hoover: "The best thing to do is to appoint a fact-finding commission." Mayor Walker: "How do you like this snappy beret with the visor attached?" President Von Hindenburg: "Deutschland ueber Alles." Alimee McPherson: "Isn't Dave wonderful?" Ramsay MacDonald: "England will muddle through." Calvin Coolidge: "My choice is the Grand Old Party." Sir Hubert Wilkins: "Goody, dear Nautilus (sotto voce), you leaky old washubt." Mr. Gifford: "In my opinion, the problem can be attacked best by local committees." Roger Babson: "Prosperity is just around the corner." Mrs. Ella Boole: "I'm dry and I'm proud of it." A Voice: "As between the Cards and the Athletics, I stand first, last and all the time for Henry George and the single tax."

Take it from Alimee Davis's a flame.

Diverse Opinion of the Press on Wage Cutting

CUTTING INEVITABLE.

From the Boston Evening Transcript.
Trend of events there is nothing surprising in the action of the United States Steel Corporation in reducing wages. First came a slash in the dividend rate. Then salaries were cut. Now wages are subjected to the same process. The world's largest industrial concern is forced by the logic of events to take action which for the past two years it has endeavored to avoid. Nearly two years have passed since Mr. Hoover called his famous conference, and the depression continues. Men charged with the conduct of business must yield to the necessities of today. They cannot shape their course on the expectations of 1923. The policy then adopted has been followed in the steel and other industries until the breaking point has been reached. Common sense now dictates a change.

SHOULD AID IN REVIVAL.

From the Chicago Daily News.
IT is true workers whose wages are reduced cannot spend as much money as they did before the reduction. But lower wages should be reflected in lower commodity prices and in a revival of demand for all kinds of desirable articles. Increased demand for goods leads directly to increased demand for labor.

OBSTACLE TO RECOVERY.

From the Houston Post-Dispatch.
Envelope of the wage earner means curtailed purchasing power of the masses, and it is the inability and the unwillingness of the masses to buy that is prolonging the recession in business activity. If widespread wage cutting follows Steel's action, the buyers "strike" is practically sure to become more pronounced.

A GOOD MOVE FOR ALL.

From the New York Evening Post.
IT means the largest corporation in the world has decided that good times will return neither soon nor automatically. We believe the action of the United States Steel Corporation is sound economics. We see it as an intelligent and necessary step to stimulate the return of good times. We are convinced, therefore, that in the long run it will prove a good thing both for labor and for all the rest of us.

NOT NECESSARILY BAD.

From the Baltimore Sun.
THE wage salary cuts are the hardest blow yet delivered to the high-wage principle to which President Hoover and many of the big industrialists have paid homage, but it would be unwise for anyone to judge therefrom that they are bad. It is much better, in a time like this, to give less attention to general theories and "principles" and more to concrete cases. In the case of the steel companies, it is very difficult to examine the record of their recent operations and escape the conclusion that they needed to get costs down in order to stimulate business. Looking at that condition, it does not do much good to revive any story of their past sins. What is before the companies today must be dealt with practically, from the standpoint of the workers no less than stockholders. It does not do much good to maintain a high wage level if work is constantly declining.

JUSTIFICATION CLEAR.

From the New York Times.
THE economic and business justification for the step taken is clear to the minds of most financiers and industrialists. The original experiment (keeping wages up) urged by the President has been thoroughly tried but has failed. It is time to turn in another direction. What the administration seemingly fears is that the example now set may lead to widespread cutting of wages. But if the thing must be done, then it must be, however those responsible may regret having to make the necessary decision. But what about the political motives against this change in the wage scale? They are the ones that apparently cause most anxiety at Washington. To go into a presidential campaign next year with a record of lower wages and higher taxes appears far from alluring to Republican politicians. But when economic and business law shows itself to be inexorable, politics has to give way.

PURCHASING POWER THE SAME.

From the Brooklyn Eagle.
THE lower rate of wages corresponds roughly to the reduction in rents, food prices and the cost of other necessities, so that the new wage rate is pretty much the same in purchasing power as was that of 1923.

UNWISE IN LONG RUN.

From the Detroit News.
ON the wage reduction in the steel industry and others, we predict a verdict in the end substantially this: That they were unnecessary and unwise; that the way to stimulate buying lies not in curtailing the purchasing powers of the largest part of the buying public; that they were conceived in reactionary thinking which is certain to be utterly repudiated by the progressives of the business world; that the old fatal error of proceeding in big business with one eye on the stock market played its part, under the delusion that speculative buying and selling stocks in New York has a real share in the earnings of the real workers of the country.

NEED NOT PROVED.

From the Milwaukee Journal.
MOST disappointing is the failure to make any reasonable statement to the country that the cut was necessary. It is simply the exercise of a power, consequent since unemployment, with the word from the seats of the mighty that they think it wise.

WEAKENS MORALE.

From the Chicago Daily Tribune.
WAGE reduction must be recognized. When circumstances induce a resort to it, as a forced strategic retreat, not an adoption of general policy. It is an emergency measure which any enlightened management compelled by conditions which a sound faith in American character and American economic strength confidently reverts to general theories and "principles" and more to concrete cases. In the case of the steel companies, it is very difficult to examine the record of their recent operations and escape the conclusion that they needed to get costs down in order to in salary and dividends from investment which have preceded it, is unpleasant, and it involves not merely loss of income but the weakening of morale through discouragement.

CIRCUMSTANCES IMPORTANT.

From the Washington Evening Star.
A REDUCTION of wages may be justified if it is necessary to the very maintenance of an industry. It may not be justified, however, if it is necessary merely to bolster up earnings for the owners of securities issued by the industry for capitalizing purposes. A concern that is making reasonable returns on its capital investment and which cuts wages so as to increase the returns to a comparatively few owners is entitled only to condemnation.

THE POLITICAL ANGLE.

From the Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman.
THERE is a political, as well as a social and economic angle to this development. President Hoover has been openly opposed to all wage reductions, but he hasn't prevented them. All his patter of prosperity has a still more hollow sound as great pay rolls shrink, and the employed will join the unemployed in bitterness against the administration.

MAKING WATER RUN UPHILL.

From the New York World-Telegram.
TO try to keep up wages on a national scale during recurring depressions of the present system is as hopeless as trying to make water run up hill. It can be done, but not long. This is a very disagreeable fact to face. The important thing is that we learn our lesson. Any new system to be effective must be a form of industrial democracy in which labor and the public share with capital the responsibility and power to stabilize prosperity.

LOWER PRICES SHOULD FOLLOW.

From the Topeka Capital.
IF wages are reduced by the steel, automobile and other large pivotal industries no excuse can be found for maintaining prices as heretofore. It is logical to suppose that the wage cut is a move preceding price cuts, but this remains to be seen. A cut in the prices of iron and steel corresponding in percentage to the cut in wages would be helpful to the automobile business, the railroads and the farm implement companies, among others, and would have its effect in starting industrial recovery.

BUYING POWER BASIC.

From the Christian Science Monitor.
IT would be good policy for industry to pledge that the rates of pay now being abandoned will be restored just as soon as business returns to normal. For the higher consumer buying power and the more efficient worker move along with go with generous wages will be bases for sounder business building.

BURDENING THE MASSES.

From the Arkansas Democrat.
CAPITALIST leaders know only one solution of the burden on to the masses. Accompanying that "fundamental" is the conviction that the spread between the profits of capital and the profits of labor always must be kept so wide that the latter must be the defensive. To narrow that chasm is to bring about more equitable distribution of wealth in this country, and that our big bankers and industrialists will resist to the last ditch.

BALTIMORE & OHIO RAILROAD
DECLARES $1 DIVIDEND

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad today declared a dividend of $1 a share on the common stock. In the previous quarters dividends of $1.25 each were paid, prior to which the stock was on a $1 dividend basis.

Although formally as a quarterly payment, it has the effect of placing the stock on a $4 annual basis. The reduction in the rate was made until some further change is made. The unexpected decline in common earnings, in common with other rail carriers, have shown a marked decline in the general depression is payable Dec. 1 to stockholders of record Oct. 10.

QUIT POWER TRUST
IN INTERNAL FEUDDomination by Electric
Bond & Share and Insull Group Is Cause of Dissension.By PAUL Y. ANDERSON,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The Federal Trade Commission has resumed its prolonged investigation of the rates and practices of the electric power industry. Since the last hearings were held the so-called "power trust" has been split wide open by an internal feud, and there is a lively prospect that the commission may disclose the cause of the dissension.
Two of the largest public utility companies in the country—the United Gas Improvement Co. of Philadelphia and the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey—have recently withdrawn from membership in the National Electric Light Association, which is the political and propaganda agency of the utility industry. Despite pressure from financial interests seeking to prevent the disruption of the association, these companies have resisted
every effort to bring them back into the fold.Disgusted With Propaganda.
Investigators for the Trade Commission have learned that officers of the seceding companies were incensed over what they considered
the undue domination of the association by Electric Bond and Share
Co. and the Insull group. Moreover, they are reported to have become disgusted with the political and propaganda methods of the association, as disclosed before the commission during the last three years.United Gas Improvement operates the gas and electric systems in Philadelphia and in other Pennsylvania cities. Its president, John E.
Zimmerman, is known to be opposed to the political and propaganda methods exposed before the commission.The Public Service Corporation operates more than half the public utilities in New Jersey. Thomas
M. Carter, its president, is known to feel that the association, as now conducted, is dominated by Sidney Z. Mitchell, chairman of Electric Bond and Share, and the Insull brothers.The cost of maintaining the nation-wide lobby and propaganda machinery of the association is borne by the members, who are assessed a certain percentage of their revenue. The seceding companies were among the heaviest contributors, and withdrawal of their financial support has caused serious concern to the remaining members and to the officers of the association. It also has caused concern in high financial circles over the possibility that the quarrel might break into the open, and thus lead to further unpleasant
disclosures."Public Relations Counsel."
The managing director of the association is Paul S. Clapp, who was assistant to Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover prior to 1926, when he made his present connection. The chairman of the association's committee on public relations is Dan Green, who also is vice president of Electric Bond & Share. The association maintains what is politely called a "public relations counsel" in Washington,
and Green and Clapp frequently come here for conferences with him.An example of the efficiency of the "public relations counsel" was afforded during the progressive conference here last March. A committee was named to study and recommend legislation concerning public utilities. Before the personnel of the committee had been made public, however, the "public relations counsel" of the National Electric Light Association distributed a mimeographed list of the names, accompanied by statements purporting to show that all the members of the committee had "socialistic tendencies."Practices of this nature, and the long record of efforts to influence legislators, subsidize newspapers and educators, and place propaganda in the schools, are assumed to have the approval of Mitchell
and the Insulls.Dissension Is Threatened.
But some utility magnates consider such methods "bad business,"
and their disapproval culminated in the resignation of United Gas Improvement and Public Service Corporation.Trade commission investigators believe that the protest may result in further withdrawals, and that even the existence of the association is threatened. It is known that the dominant figures remaining in the association are making strenuous efforts, not only to bring back the seceders, but to prevent additional defections.DO YOU WEAR OR NEED A

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—For the second time since Samuel Seabury started his investigation of the Magistrates' courts, Chief Magistrate McDonald today ordered a complete transfer of all court clerks and their assistants. The order is effective tomorrow. The only reason assigned was "for the good of the service."
When Seabury some time ago discovered that clerks were responsible in a great degree for the breakdown of the courts, a general shift was ordered. This was to prevent court attaches from becoming too familiar with policemen and politicians in their districts.ADVERTISEMENT*Do

"The Old Home Town" Shows Its Admiration for the Pennant-Winning Cardinals

—By Post-Dispatch staff photographers.

Hafey and Bottomley in "civies," seemed to enjoy their fourth experience of this kind, since they were members of the Cardinal team in 1926 which brought the first modern baseball championship to St. Louis, and have played here ever since.

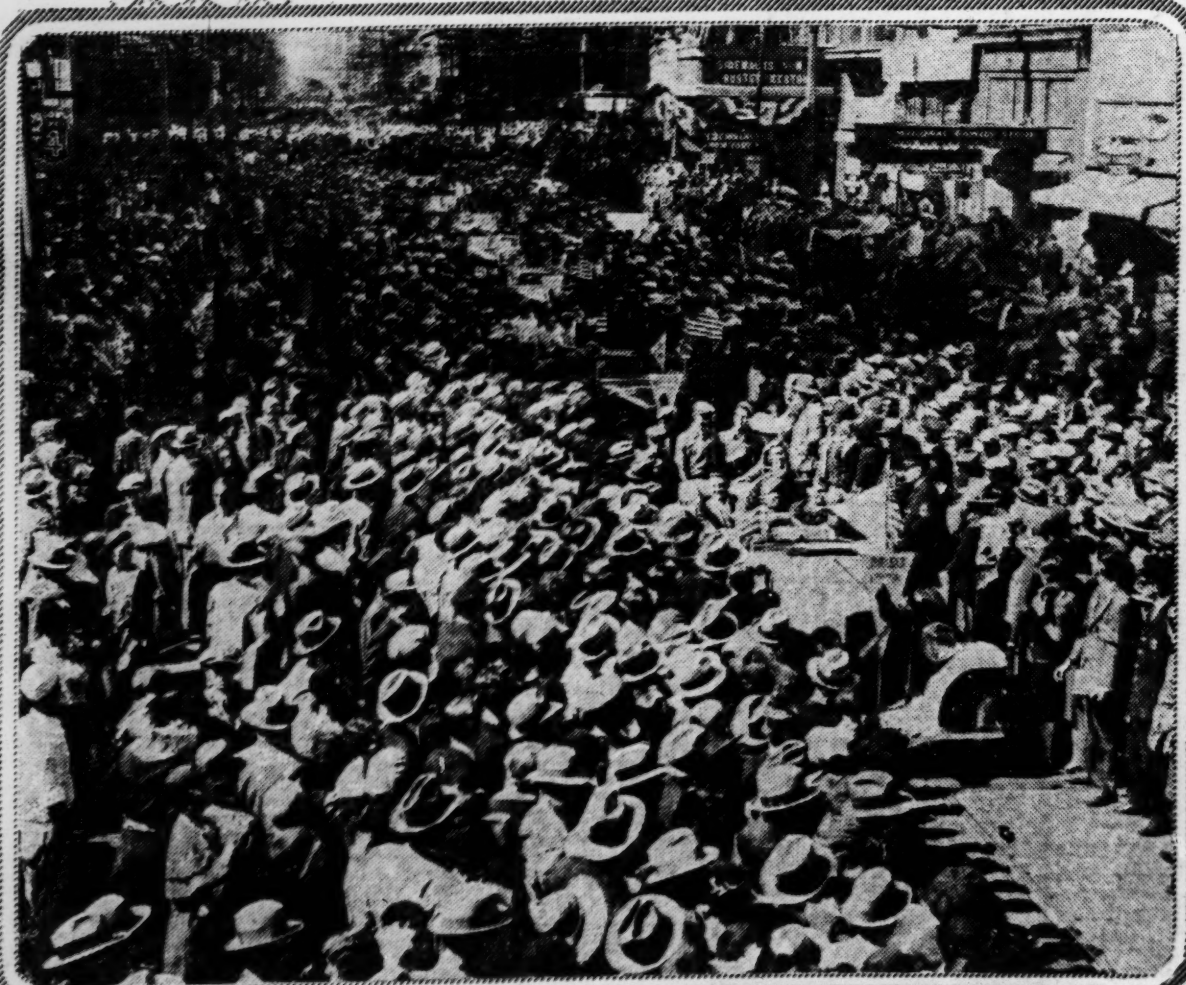

The usual shower of ticker tape, torn paper and confetti coming down upon the members of the baseball team as they rode in automobiles west on Olive street, towards Twelfth boulevard, between lanes of admirers who overflowed sidewalks all the way to the street car tracks.

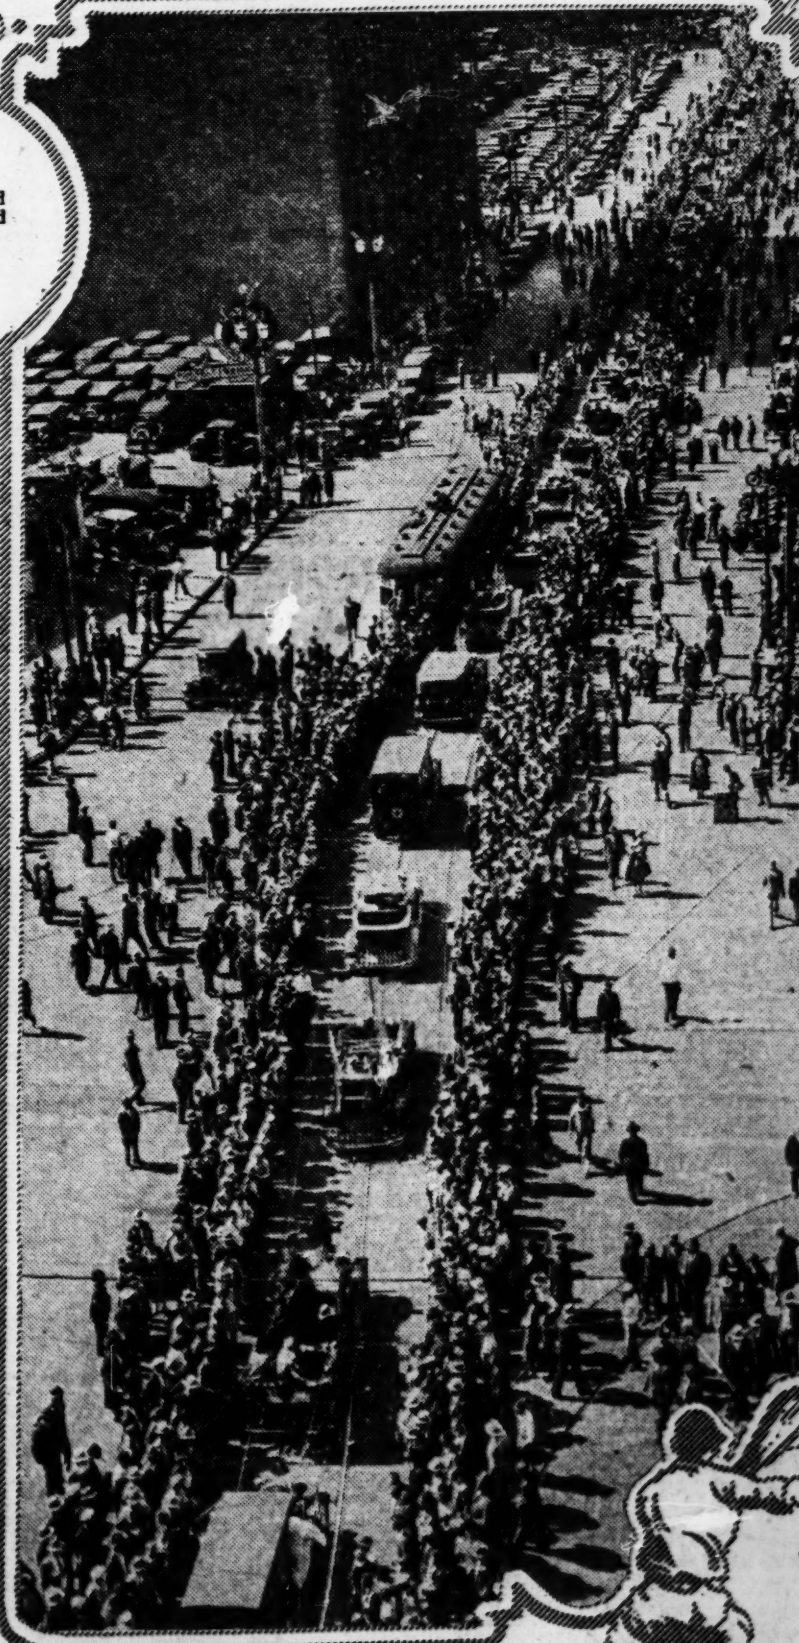

Frisch and Gelbert—and did the crowd know them!

The manager, Gabby Street, taking it all very calmly, and coach Wares.

This photograph, made as the Cardinal ballplayers were going east in Washington avenue, gives a good idea of the densely packed streets along the line of parade downtown.

The procession going west on Olive street, after crossing Twelfth boulevard.

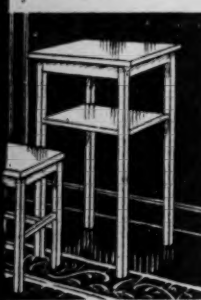

Jess Haines was given particularly friendly greetings because of recent injury which will keep him out of the world series contest.
